

Gas Hearing Is Postponed; Electric Rates Up Today

At the request of James L. Mayson, city attorney of Atlanta, the state public service commission yesterday postponed until December 4, further hearing of its citations to the Georgia Power company in regard to the revision of gas rates in Atlanta, but announced that the power rate hearing scheduled for today would be held as originally ordered.

Postponement was granted the city attorney so that he could study certain records and figures submitted in the gas rate hearing by President Preston Arkwright, of the power company. Mr. Mayson was joined in the request for the postponement by W. D. Knight, city attorney of East Point and W. A. McLain representing the Atlanta Federation of Labor.

Small Earnings Claimed.
In his statement submitted to the commission in the gas rate case, Mr. Arkwright said that only twice since 1922, when the present rates were fixed, has the gas department of the power company earned 8 per cent on its investment devoted to the public service. The total losses of the gas department in the last ten years aggregate $1,250,000, according to Mr. Arkwright. He said in the last year the net return has reached 9 per cent.

Mr. Arkwright asked the commission to consider, in its revision plans, the losses of the company during this period and to give such losses recognition. The present rate on gas in Atlanta is $1.55 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, less 10 per cent discount for prompt payment of bills, and in East Point, College Park and Decatur, the rate is $1.65 less discount.

In asking for the postponement Mr. Mayson said he had not been able to see the power company's statement until it was submitted at the hearing yesterday.

Session This Morning.
The case of the power rate revision will be heard beginning at 10 o'clock this morning, it was announced by Chairman James A. Perry.

The power rate case is of interest to nearly 200 towns and eastern Georgia, which are served by the Georgia Power company. The commission cited the company to show cause why revision in rates should not be made, because of the many new uses found for electricity in the homes since the rates were last fixed. At present the rate in Atlanta is 9 cents a kilowatt hour, less the usual discount for prompt payment of bills.

The commission also will seek to reconcile the rates now charged in various cities served by the company. In some cities the company charges

PARKER WILL SPEAK AT CHAMBER FRIDAY

Atlanta Business Leaders To Hear Foreign Trade Expert.

Several hundred Atlanta business men, members of the chamber of commerce and their friends, are expected to hear Walter Parker, of New Orleans, speak Friday on "The Trade Promise of a New World." Invitations to members were mailed Tuesday, but the general public is invited to hear Mr. Parker, by making luncheon reservations. The luncheon will be held Friday at 12:30 o'clock in the main assembly hall of the chamber of commerce.

Walter Parker is one of the most widely-known authorities in the country on the development of commerce at home and abroad. He is now economist for Fenner and Beane, the brokerage house, at New Orleans, and for many years was general manager of the New Orleans Association of Commerce. He is chairman of the Costa Rica group for the Pan-American congress, executive vice president of the National Flood Prevention and River Regulation commission, and vice president of the Mississippi Valley association. Formerly he was assistant to the United States secretary of commerce for inland water transportation. He was vice chairman of the European conference of the World's Cotton conference in 1919.

Ordered Deported, Chinese Is Seeking Liberty From Tower
Jung Sing, who has just completed a two-year term at the federal penitentiary here for violation of the Harrison narcotic act, and who claims he is an American citizen by birth, has filed a habeas corpus petition through his attorney, Frank Doughman, in an attempt to gain his release from the Fulton tower, where he is being held awaiting deportation to China.

According to the petition, Sing was born in California of Chinese parents. He moved east with his father in 1925 and was arrested and sentenced to two years in the Federal penitentiary here on a narcotic charge. While an inmate of the prison, the petition states, he was brought before U. S. Commissioner L. S. Ledbetter and tried under the Chinese exclusion act.

He was found to be an alien Chinese, unlawfully within the United States and ordered deported. Released from prison Wednesday, he was immediately arrested and placed in Fulton tower to await deportation. He claims in his petition that the trial and the finding by the commissioner was without authority as he is a citizen of the United States. A hearing has been set for 10 o'clock this morning of November 10, by Judge S. H. Sibley.

COMPANY L REUNION

Unit of 325th Infantry To Meet in New York.

The second annual reunion of Company L, 325th Infantry, A. E. F., will be held in the Highland hotel, Springfield, Mass., on Saturday, November 17, it was announced here Wednesday.

The first reunion was held in New York last year, with more than 100 members, representing 25 states, attending. This company was formed at Camp Gordon as part of the all-American eighty-second division and went to France early in 1918. All members are urged to attend, but those who cannot are asked to write a letter to Sergeant Jack Groves at the Highland hotel, telling what they have done and when they have seen since leaving the company. The committee in charge is composed of Colonel Pierce, D. S. C., Sergeant Groves and Hawkins, D. S. C., and Sergeant Stillman.

HOOPER'S TENNESSEE MARGIN OVER 30,000

Majority Increases as Later Returns Are Tabulated.

Nashville, Tenn., November 7.—(AP) As virtually complete unofficial returns were received today from yesterday's election in Tennessee, Herbert Hoover increased his majority over Governor Smith to more than 30,000.

With 44 of the 95 counties complete and only 186 out of 2,230 precincts in the state missing, Hoover's vote was 167,707 against Smith's 135,867. Practically all of the missing precincts were small and widely scattered.

While Tennessee was piling up this heavy republican majority in the presidential race, which was more than double that given Harding eight years ago when the state went republican for the first time in a national election since reconstruction days, the democratic state candidates were increasing their already long leads.

Senator Kenneth McKellar, Governor Henry Horton, and Porter Dunlap, railroad and public utilities commission, scored smashing victories over the republican candidates opposing their reelection.

Returns from 1,847 precincts gave McKellar 129,374, Mayor James A. Fowler, of Knoxville, 93,548, Governor Horton received 141,608 votes from 1,881 precincts as against 92,685 cast for Raleigh S. Horton, republican gubernatorial candidate. In the vote from 1,800 precincts Dunlap received 121,105 votes and his republican opponent, 75,738.

Tennessee's representation in congress will consist of two republicans and eight democrats, the same as the present apportionment. All of the incumbents who sought reelection were victorious. Elais J. Garrett, who for twelve terms has represented the ninth district, was not a candidate, having withdrawn to oppose McKellar for the democratic senatorial nomination in the August primary.

W. C. Cooper, a democrat, succeeded him.

DIVISION OF POOL FOR COAST LINES TO BE ARBITRATED

New York, November 7.—(AP) Dispute between the Williams and Munson-McCormick lines in the United States inter coast conference over the division of the pooling arrangement of business among the various groups in the conference was referred to arbitration today and a threatened disruption of the organization was averted.

R. C. Thacker, chairman of the conference, said all disputes involved in recent discussion had been settled and that the conference would not dissolve on December 1 as had been reported.

"Better relations exist today with the so-called non-conference lines," Thacker said, "and there is every indication that the present arrangement will continue without interruption or dissatisfaction."

The dispute arose over the issue of whether the pool should divide on a tonnage basis, as heretofore, or on a revenue basis. George Williams, president of the Williams line, precipitated a crisis in the conference when he served notice that he would withdraw from the organization on December 2 unless a division on a revenue basis were approved. Mr. Thacker, in announcing that the differences had been submitted to him for arbitration, said there would be no restrictions and that the conference soon would be ready to make contracts for 1929.

RHODE ISLAND GOES FOR SMITH BY 1,493 VOTES

Providence, R. I., November 7.—(AP) Governor Alfred Smith carried Rhode Island by 1,493 votes.

After a night of doubt, during which the ultimate outcome could not be guessed at, the final figures were Smith 118,951, Hoover 117,458. It was not until the vote of 194 of the state's 196 precincts had been compiled at 4:40 o'clock this morning that Smith gained a lead of 2,728 votes over Herbert Hoover, a lead which the latter cut down but could not erase.

The big surprise of the election, in view of Governor Smith's victory, was the defeat of United States Senator Peter G. Gerry, for reelection. Senator Gerry, chairman of the advisory board of the democratic national committee, was expected to poll a heavier vote than Smith but instead lost to Felix Hebert by a margin of 2,991. The vote was Hebert 119,056; Gerry 116,065.

2 FOKKER PLANES TO LEAVE TODAY FOR NEW ORLEANS

Two Fokker monoplanes purchased by the St. Tammany-Gulf Coast Airways for service on the Atlanta-New Orleans air mail route, which arrived at Candler field Tuesday afternoon, will leave this morning for New Orleans en route from the Fokker factory in New Jersey. The two monoplanes are being piloted by D. D. Johnston and William DeWald. The planes left the Fokker factory Monday afternoon and stopped over at Richmond Monday night.

MAN WHO ROBBED OLD SLATON HOME GIVEN 10 MONTHS

Convicted of the theft of chandeliers from the old Slaton home at 336 Courtland street, P. F. Ennis was sentenced to 10 months in the penitentiary in Fulton superior court Wednesday to serve 10 months. Attorney Audley Lane, counsel for Ennis, announced that he would appeal the case.

LADY ASTOR SAYS HOOPER ELECTION IS "DRY" VICTORY

London, November 7.—(AP) Lady Astor, speaking to an English journalist in the house of commons today, was quoted as saying: "I am delighted with the Hoover victory. I am a Virginian, and on the other side of American party politics. But I regard Mr. Hoover's success as a victory for prohibition. 'I hope Mr. Hoover will clean up New York. He can make prohibition real. It is real in a large part of the United States, but Mr. Hoover should stamp out alcohol from New York.' 'Prohibition has reduced the population of prisons, poorhouses and infirmaries; it has increased the money spent on the workers' children and has increased prosperity. In my recent visit to America I found American women all for peace and prohibition.'"

Bewildered by City's Turmoil, Girl Is Cared for by Society

TRAVELERS' AID LOOKS OUT FOR NEWCOMERS

Addie May given comfort and help by Travelers' Aid society worker.

She had to find work. Back home was a bed-ridden father and poor old granny who could scarcely keep up the tiny home which the mill people had let them have after the plant shut down.

Addie May stood outside the station for four long hours. All that time she clutched the battered suitcase which held all her possessions, and stared, unseeing, at the thousands who hurried past. Through those hours the color drained from her cheeks, her knees shook, but she dared not move. Addie May was scared to death of the city and its noise.

It was a typical case of the thousands of newcomers who are being brought to the city by the Travelers' Aid society, one of the agencies supported by the Community Chest, and it was a worker for the society who saw and recognized the girl's plight.

Addie May came to Atlanta to work.

Little schooling. Addie May had had very little schooling, there was nothing she could do but operate a loom and that not too expertly. But she had to have work, she had to have a place to stay, she had to have money with which to eat.

Addie May got all these things. First she was taken in charge by the kind lady at the station. She was comforted and she was fed. A simple job in a big store was found for her and she was taken to a family whose spare bedroom seemed made for Addie May and another girl. At night they went to classes where an expert dietitian taught them to cook. A year of this and Addie May was found a place as housekeeper for a wealthy farmer. She was given a little house in which her father and her granny are rendered immediate and necessary assistance. The society, with ten trained workers, meets 144 trains daily and recently has extended its activities to the bus stations. In the past year assistance has been given 22,000 sick, bewildered and unfortunate travelers, many of them being saved from the menace of tragic disaster.

It is for this and thirty-seven other agencies that funds will be asked in the Community Chest campaign which begins November 19.

Psychopathic Ward at Grady Is Indorsed.

Indorsement of the psychopathic ward for Grady hospital, together with plans for establishment of a child guidance clinic in connection with the ward, featured resolutions passed by the Parent-Teachers' executive board of the E. Rivers school, it was reported Wednesday by Mrs. George Fairman, in charge of publicity.

BLAZE GUTS BUILDING ON MARIETTA STREET

Damage to Atlanta Linen Supply Co. Structure Put at Several Thousands.

Fire, believed to have started by over-heating of an electric motor, destroyed the cabinet manufacturing department of the Atlanta Linen and Supply company, at 391 Marietta street, shortly after 4 o'clock Wednesday.

The flames spread quickly throughout the one-story brick building and completely gutted the structure, before the fire could be brought under control by the engine company's answering the alarm.

Early estimates of damage to the linen company plant were placed at several thousand dollars, while further damage was done by smoke and water flooding into Camp's baroque restaurant next door. Skilful handling of the situation by the fire department prevented spreading of the fire to adjoining buildings in the thickly built-up business section.

Congestion of the late afternoon traffic on Marietta street and cross streets in the vicinity of the fire, caused a jam of motor vehicles blocking progress for more than an hour.

XMAS TRADE CLINIC SET FOR THURSDAY

The third of the regular weekly retail trade clinics that the Atlanta Retail Merchants' association is holding for the purpose of discussing how its members can render the best possible service to the retail buying public this year will be held Thursday night at 6:45 o'clock at a supper in assembly hall No. 2, chamber of commerce building.

These weekly retail trade clinics were originated by the Atlanta association and the idea has been adopted by a number of other merchants' associations in different parts of America. The meeting will be presided over by G. C. Green, president.

MINTYRE HELD UP, BEATEN AND ROBBED BY TWO NEGROES

Attacked by two young unmasked negroes as he walked along a downtown street at noon Wednesday, D. M. McIntyre, of 1121 Boulevard, was beaten into an unconscious condition and robbed of approximately $50, according to police reports.

McIntyre was found at the Kroger street underpass shortly after noon by a passerby who summoned an ambulance to carry the unconscious man to Grady hospital. An X-ray taken there revealed no fracture of the skull but it was more than an hour before the patient regained consciousness sufficiently to tell his story to officers.

RAINEY REELECTED HEAD OF SCHOOLS IN DEKALB COUNTY

Decatur, Ga., November 7.—(Special.)—W. M. Rainey, incumbent superintendent of schools for DeKalb county, was overwhelmingly re-elected, defeating his independent opponent, R. E. Carroll, former superintendent, by a vote of 3,478 to 590, according to a county school official tabulation made Wednesday.

Mr. Rainey carried a big majority of the county precincts situated in what is described as the "true" county districts—where his opponent was said to have expected most of his support. Independent districts, under Georgia law, can not take part in election of a county school head, but it was known that residents of such districts cast ballots in the recent general election.

No Wonder it's Good

EVERYONE concedes that Kraft Cheese is good—many people claim it is the best. One thing at least is certain . . . We leave nothing undone that would make it the best.

Kraft Cheese is made from the best of Pasteurized Southern milk. And the cheese itself is also pasteurized—a double safeguard. It is made in large up-to-date factories with controlled temperature and every modern appliance to promote sanitation and a superior quality of product. It has no rind or other waste—good to the last morsel—while its keeping qualities—about four times that of ordinary cheese—make it especially economical in hot or sultry climates.

Buy it any time or any place and it is always fresh, pure, wholesome, and good. Look for the Kraft name on the carton or tinfoil.

For over 50 years "Philadelphia" Cream Cheese has maintained its leadership. The favorite of thousands of housewives. Sold only in the three-ounce foil wrapped packages.

Please send this booklet, "Keeping the Southern Made Dollar in the South."

Most of it is spent for products not made in the South. And that is a matter of no small importance to the South, for only a few cents of a dollar so spent remain here at home where they count.

Take the single item of cheese alone; more than $32,000,000 go out of the South yearly for this one product. These dollars should remain here with the southern farmer and merchant.

But this no longer need be true, for you can now buy southern made cheese—Kraft Cheese. And better cheese is not made anywhere. You should patronize this home industry.

PARTY WILL SURVIVE LOSS, SAYS HARDWICK

Principles Indestructible,
Says Former Georgia
Governor.

Although the democratic party met defeat in the general election Tuesday by the overwhelming vote in the nation, the party will survive this defeat because its principles are indestructible, according to former Governor Thomas W. Hardwick in a statement issued Wednesday.

Former Governor Hardwick was one of the leaders of the campaign for the democratic party in Georgia, making many speeches in the state. He declared in his statement Wednesday that the race in Georgia demonstrated that one thing is necessary in Georgia and that is "to establish and maintain a real democratic party."

Hardwick's Statement.

The statement is as follows: "Now that the smoke of yesterday's political battle is beginning to clear away, it is just as well for us to take careful stock of the situation."

"We have met a great political defeat, not greater, however, than others that we have suffered and survived. The democratic party will survive this defeat because the principles upon which it rests are indestructible, and cannot perish as long as the republic lives."

"In Georgia we have learned in fire and in the stress of an unusual political battle one lesson. We must establish and maintain in this state a real democratic party. While that party will always be warm welcome for every person who believes in its principles and honestly abides its nominations, we have no room within its ranks for 'national republicans,' or for any other voters who participate in our primaries, accept office at our hands, and then desert in the hour of battle. No excuse can either justify or palliate conduct of that character."

Salutes Loyal Democrats.

"Today, in the hour of our defeat, I salute and greet the loyal and militant democrats of Georgia, men and women alike. A more magnificent fight was never made than the one they made in this state in this election. A greater victory was never won against terrific odds than the democratic victory in Georgia that they won on November 6. They have kept inviolate the faith of our fathers. They have saved untarnished the political honor of the state. They have preserved the finest and holiest traditions of our mother land. The religion they have both preached and practiced is real Christianity, and is the religion of love and not the religion of hate."

"As long as the country lives and the democratic party endures, a Georgia democrat will be proud of his state and its record wherever he or she goes, for both will be honored and respected wherever courage is prized and loyalty is valued."

"To the loyal and militant democrats of Georgia, I bring this final word: 'Be of good cheer. This fight has just begun; it will never end until it ends right, in democratic victory. Be ready and keep your powder dry, for ceaseless warfare as well as eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.'"

U. S. RESERVATION ON STEWART AVE. WILL BE LEASED

Disposition of the Stewart avenue reservation acquired by the United States war department during the late war through lease for a period of five years has been authorized, according to an announcement made Tuesday by Colonel F. H. Burton, fourth corps area quartermaster, at Fort McPherson.

The property now made available for non-military purposes is described as consisting of about one and a half acres of land located on Stewart avenue and Wells street, and improved with a garage, warehouse, office, shop, storage shed and heating plant. Leasing of the property will be handled by Colonel Burton.

WALTER STEWART TO SPEAK TODAY TO REALTY BOARD

Walter B. Stewart, chairman of the Fulton county commission, will address the Atlanta Real Estate board at 12:30 o'clock today, at the Atlanta Athletic club. He will speak on "Fulton County's 1928-1929 Road Construction Program."

Other speakers will be Henry Robinson, of the Adair Realty & Loan company, and J. H. Ewing, of J. H. Ewing & Sons.

PURSE IS STOLEN FROM RESIDENCE OF MRS. WEINBURG

Mrs. M. Weinburg, of 537 Linwood avenue, was robbed of a purse containing approximately $25 in cash by a sneak thief who entered her home early Wednesday night, according to police reports. Mrs. Weinburg told officers that she had returned home from a trip downtown shortly after 6 o'clock and had removed her coat and laid it on a chair with the purse. She then went into another room for a few seconds, she said, and returned just in time to see a negro disappearing through the outside door with the purse in his hand.

RIGHT OF RUSSIA TO AUCTION SEIZED PROPERTY RAISED

Berlin, November 7.—(AP)—The question of Russia's right to sell personal property confiscated by the soviet government was raised in the German courts today as the auction of art works and treasures from the Leaning tower and palaces ended. The total receipts for the two days of the sale were approximately $750,000. Today's transactions were restricted by the German courts which granted interim injunctions to four Russian emigrants who claimed certain objects up for sale as their personal property. The injunctions affected 100 pieces, including valuable furniture, gobelin tapestries, pictures and the prized object of all, the famous painting of "Rembrandt's Son" by Nicolas Maas.

HOOVER'S VICTORY GETS FAVORABLE VIEW IN BRITAIN

London, November 7.—(AP)—Hoover's victory is the big story of the day in Great Britain, with the afternoon papers devoting many columns under front page streamers to the election results, with numerous pictures, such as "Hoover's winning smile." "The new lady of the white house." Editorially the papers comment on the outcome as not likely to produce any marked change in America's foreign relations, but the Evening News expresses satisfaction that a man with Mr. Hoover's former close touch with the old world will be the next occupant of the white house, while the Evening Standard says:

CHINESE OFFICIALS EXPRESS DELIGHT AT HOOVER VICTORY

Shanghai, China, November 7.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover's election was enthusiastically received in the official circles of the Chinese nationalist government today.

C. T. Wang, foreign minister, expressing the sentiments of his government, issued this statement:

"China views the republican party as a consistent friend of China beginning as long ago as Hay's open door declaration which prevented the partition of China, Roosevelt's remission of the Boxer indemnity, the Washington conference action of Hughes and Harding, and Coolidge's opposition in 1922 to foreign armed intervention in China."

Referring to Mr. Hoover, Dr. Wang said the fact that the president-elect had lived in China undoubtedly would result in a strong interest in China in the coming administration which China would welcome.

Mrs. Reed Smoot, Wife of Senator, Dies in Washington

Washington, November 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Reed Smoot, wife of the Utah senator, died today at 7 a. m. after a long illness. She was 65 years old.

Mrs. Smoot whose maiden name was May Edredge, the daughter of Horace S. and Chloe Redfield Edredge, was born at Salt Lake City, Utah, August 6, 1858. After studying at Deseret university, Utah, she was married to Reed Smoot on September 17, 1884. Three sons and three daughters were born to them. They are: Harold R. Harlow E., Ernest T., Mrs. Chloe Smoot Carlson, Mrs. Annie K. Reben-tisch and Mrs. Zella Ester Hibley.

The senator said that Mrs. Smoot had taken "an interest in politics as long as her health permitted" and credited her with a large part in whatever success he had attained.

ANTI-EVOLUTION BILL VOTED BY ARKANSANS

Measure Is Passed on Referendum Vote in Election of Tuesday.

Little Rock, Ark., November 7.—(AP)—An anti-evolution bill that squeezed through one house of the state legislature two years ago by a vote of one but was killed in the senate, appeared tonight to have been passed to Arkansas statutes by a referendum vote in yesterday's election.

The vote on the anti-evolution act shared in the interest of Arkansas as to the final majority the state would show for the national democratic ticket.

Returns from 795 of the 2,018 precincts in the state, which included most of the cities, showed 36,689 for and 25,439 against passage of the act.

Its adoption was generally conceded by its chief opponents, thus marking a victory for A. L. Rotenberry, a Little Rock lawyer, who as a member of the house introduced it in the legislature and failing to gain its passage there, enlisted support of ministers and others and obtained sufficient signatures to a petition requiring its submission as an initiative act.

CHICAGO ELECTS NEGRO TO SEAT IN NEXT CONGRESS

Chicago, November 7.—(AP)—Illinois' wealthiest congressional district, comprising the loop business section of Chicago with its large hotels, banks and department stores, is to be represented by a negro.

With only three precincts to be heard from out of 162, Oscar De Priest, former alderman and real estate dealer, had a lead today over his democratic opponent, Harry Baker, 23,441 to 20,261, for the seat made vacant by the death of Representative Martin B. Madden, chairman of the appropriations committee.

He is the first of his race to be elected to congress from Illinois and will be the first negro to hold a seat there in more than a quarter of a century.

TITULESCU LIKELY TO REFUSE TO FORM RUMANIA CABINET

Bucharest, November 7.—(AP)—The political crisis in Rumania moved into a new phase today when it became evident that Nicholas Titulescu, formerly prime minister, probably would refuse to form a cabinet because of the determined opposition of the peasant party under Iuliu Maniu.

The regency, consisting of Prince Nicholas, Patriarch Cristea and M. Duzdugan appears disposed to demonstrate its complete independence of all parties by nominating a government composed of departmental heads.

Roosevelt, "Man of Destiny," Carries Al's Shield Forward

BY L. A. FARRELL.

The Happy Warrior falls on the field of battle. His happy sponsor, ever at his side, leaps forth, grabs the fallen knight's shield and sword and carries on. And as the country and schoolboy editors would put it, Georgia's loss is New York's gain. Let's go back a few weeks and tell a story about the man who carried the shield of the nation's democracy, the never-say-die democrats are confiding.

One Brightest Spot. Be that as it may, the sunny smile of Franklin D. Roosevelt and his strong white shoulders loom out as the brightest spot in a dark, dismal page of democratic history. Perhaps he is a political man of destiny. Was he?

As he promised shortly before leaving for his natal New York to launch his campaign against the republican Albert Ottinger, Mr. Roosevelt is coming back to Georgia in a few days to remain at Warm Springs and prepare himself for the rigors of his newly elected office. In Georgia he plans to stay until several days before his inauguration early in January. And even after that he promises that he will spend as much time as possible in Georgia. He has recovered wonderfully here and he is loath to leave. Already Georgia is preparing to receive Governor-elect Roosevelt as the nominal leader of the party. He is neither wet nor Tammany and his religion has never been a subject of discussion.

300,000 SEE JAP EMPEROR ENTER KYOTO

Kyoto, Japan, November 7.—(AP)—Three hundred thousand people witnessed the entry into the ancient capital of Emperor Hirohito this afternoon. At this place he will be enthroned as 124th imperial ruler, the main ceremony being held Saturday.

Lowering skies and an intermittent drizzle, sprinkling the procession at intervals, did not prevent the patient reverent throngs from massing in every available space along the route. Arriving by train at 2 o'clock in the afternoon from Nagoya, the imperial cortege formed and at a stately pace traversed the 2-1/2 miles from the station to the palace, the emperor entering Kenrei gate at 3:20 o'clock.

The absence of the sun goddess did not diminish the impressiveness of the progress of her descendant, although the phoenix crested imperial carriage followed the Kashikodokoro, the "place of an ark" of the sacred mirror through the old-style thatched-roof palace gate, rain was falling, and heavy mist obliterated Kyoto's quivering mountains.

Silent, reverent crowds formed a unique spectacle, sitting squatting on straw matting, ten to twenty deep along the route. Scores of thousands were there last night despite the heavy rain and the long wet morning hours to welcome the sovereign to the ancient home of his ancestors.

The showers brought out thousands of paper umbrellas, which appeared as a forest of variegated giant mushrooms. These disappeared as the ruler passed, all the waiting throngs uncloping and bowing. Seven thousand troops and blue-jackets, 6,000 police guarded the route, but the people preserved absolute order.

The procession moved for two miles along row and circle street. Kyoto's Broadway, along which the general public competed for places of vantage, then entered the palace park land, dotted with evergreens, under which the privileged ones had been assigned matting.

The opening gun of the imperial salute announced the train's arrival to the waiting multitude throughout the city; hands at the station plaza rendered the national anthem, after which the procession moved along noiselessly over a layer of clean sand which had been spread upon the pavements. At intervals buglers sounded the emperor's salute. Hirohito rode leaning well forward, and frequently saluted to either side.

Kyoto is brilliant with decorated lanterns bunting and flags, red and gold banners. When evening fell the colored illuminations brilliantly lighted the city and shut out the darkness. Nation-wide hookups broadcast descriptions of the procession and other ceremonies.

FRENCH SURPRISED BY MAGNITUDE OF HOOVER VICTORY

Paris, November 7.—(AP)—The American presidential election shares equally with the French ministerial crisis in the columns of the afternoon newspapers, the names of Hoover and Smith are displayed as prominently as that of Poincare.

A majority of the papers express surprise at the magnitude of Mr. Hoover's victory. His relief work in northern France and Belgium during war time is made a feature, while there is a tinge of relief over the disappearance of the hope of an outlet in the United States for French wines. The Temps says:

"Mr. Hoover's policy is likely to be a continuation of President Coolidge's trend in foreign affairs. He incarnates the deepest Puritan tradition of 100 per cent Americans."

FIFTY CITIES SHOW POSTAL INCREASE IN LAST MONTH

Washington, November 7.—(AP)—October postal receipts in 50 industrial cities totaled $3,583,043.97 compared with $3,395,957.50 for October, 1922. This was an increase of $187,086.47, 5.54 per cent, according to figures received today by postmaster general. Waterbury, Conn., recorded the largest percentage of increase with 30.08. Phoenix, Ariz., was second with 29.93. These three had the next largest gain in the order named: Okla. City, Okla., third, with 24.04; Jackson, Miss., fourth with 20.23; San Antonio, Texas, fifth, with 19.71.

MOOSE OFFICIALS ACCUSED IN THEFT FROM HOME FUNDS

Aurora, Ill., November 7.—(AP)—Harold L. Cook, assistant comptroller at Mooseheart, national home and school of the Loyal Order of Moose, was arrested today on a warrant charging him and Hugo Doehler, comptroller, with embezzling $25,000 of the institution's funds.

Unable to raise $50,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace E. Dickson, son, after he had waived preliminary hearing, Cook was lodged in the Kane county jail at Geneva to await a hearing before the grand jury.

Doehler took a leave of absence October 15 to visit his wife in Germany. He is expected to return late this month.

SMITH HAS 21,000 PLURALITY IN MASS.

Only Few Precincts Now Remain To Be Counted.

Boston, November 7.—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith's plurality over Herbert Hoover in Massachusetts tonight stood at 21,000 with only a few precincts missing from the state's total of 1,606.

Smith's total vote was 781,744. That of Hoover was 760,671. The democratic nominee was given a big majority over Hoover in the city of Boston, polling 192,257 votes against 141,527 for Hoover with the city count complete. Smith also ran ahead of Hoover in most of the cities of the state, winning the textile centers and a number of other industrial towns.

Although Hoover was given good margins in the rural sections of the state, it was Smith's great strength in the cities that cut down the republican candidate's lead. Virtually all the cities carried by Smith are normally republican.

A great increase in registration in all these cities was held to be largely responsible for the democratic candidate's success.

Senator David I. Walsh, democrat, swept to victory over R. Loring Young, with a plurality of 122,000. Walsh polled 803,621 votes, 22,000 ahead of Smith.

Lieutenant Governor Frank G. Allen, republican, won a close victory over Charles H. Cole with a vote of 753,717 to 735,507.

HARDMAN TO TALK AT DECATUR TRADE BODY LUNCHEON

Decatur, Ga., November 7.—(Special).—Governor L. G. Hardman will deliver the principal address before the regular monthly luncheon meeting of the Decatur Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Candler Friday at noon. It was announced today by Marvin Allison, secretary of the organization.

The governor Wednesday accepted an invitation of the trade body to address this month's meeting. R. Hugh Burgess has been named as chairman of the program committee for the meeting.

A. R. & C. trains Nos. 1 and 3 will leave Atlanta at 6 A. M. and 9:30 P. M., respectively, on and after Sunday, November 11.—(adv.)

Not long ago a prominent Atlanta lumber dealer had a fire which destroyed his yard and his offices. The building destroyed was a frame structure.

And When He Rebuilt He Built of BRICK!

This same lumber dealer did not hesitate long about rebuilding—and although he still sells lumber, for his own use he wisely chose brick, realizing that brick was fire-resisting, the truly permanent building material.

FULTON COUNTY SEEKS NEW GOODYEAR PLANT

Commission To Send Member to Meeting in Akron Next Week.

Decision to send a representative to Akron, Ohio, next week to attend the meeting of officials of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company at which the matter of locating a new plant in the southeast will be disposed of by the selection of a site, was reached Wednesday by the Fulton county commission.

One of the commissioners will be appointed by Chairman Walter B. Stewart within the next few days to make the trip with the Atlanta delegation. The commission was told that the Georgia Power company will provide air transportation for a number of Atlanta representatives by chartering an airplane for the journey.

$25,000,000 Investment.
The Goodyear plant will represent an investment of $25,000,000 and will employ 7,500 people, it was said. Chattanooga, Tenn., Macon, Ga., and Decatur and Gadsden, Ala., are seeking the plant as Atlanta's rivals. The proposed sites recently were inspected by a committee of company officials.

The proposal of the Atlanta Flying club to lease a portion of the alms house tract on Powers Ferry road was referred to the building and grounds committee. The club was represented at Wednesday's hearing before the commission by a delegation of its officers and governing board members, who announced that it is planned to secure a national guard flying squadron for Atlanta.

Tew Voted $250.
H. C. Tew, bystander, who was wounded on May 19 when T. C. Gordon was slain in an attempt by city detectives and deputy sheriffs to arrest Gordon in the latter's garage, was voted $250 by the commission as a donation to aid in paying Tew's hospital expenses, the commission making the condition that no liability be attached to the county.

The commission decided to close the court house at noon Monday in observance of Armistice day.

The commission accepted the invitation of the Fordward Atlanta commission for dinner one day next week, the date to be set later.

LONG SLEEP MAKES BABY HAPPY AGAIN

"Our baby kept waking us several times a night, until we started giving him a little Castoria after his last nursing," says an Iowa mother. "He slept soundly from the first night and it made him look up, feel worlds better." Baby specialists endorse Fletcher's Castoria; and millions of mothers know how this purely-vegetable, harmless preparation helps babies and children, with colic, constipation, colds, diarrhea, etc. The Fletcher signature is always on the wrapper of genuine Castoria. Avoid imitations.—(adv.)

SUFFERED WITH PIMPLES A YEAR

Itched and Burned Badly.
Healed by Cuticura.

"I had a breaking out of pimples on my body. They were hard, red and large, and came to a head and festered. They itched and burned so badly that I could not help scratching them. Scratching caused sore eruptions and I could hardly stand to have my clothing touch them. I was unable to do my work, and could not rest or sleep. I suffered with them for a year."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and four boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Annie Ellis, R. 1, Box 27, Lovejoy, Ga.

GEN. R. P. DAVIS ASKS COOPERATION IN LEGION DRIVE

Urging cooperation in the membership drive to be conducted by the Atlanta post No. 1, American Legion, between November 12 and 17, Major General Richmond P. Davis, in command of the Fourth Corps area, issued an open letter to eligibles in this section.

The memorandum, which was made in response to a request from John M. Slaton, Jr., chairman of the local post's membership committee, and given out at corps area headquarters Tuesday, quotes some of the objectives of the American Legion, and urges eligibles to membership in the organization to join as a means of continuing the praiseworthy objectives.

BIBLE STUDY CLUB TO OPEN SEASON PROGRAM TONIGHT

Dr. Plato Durham, professor of new church history at Emory university, will address members of the Young Men's Christian association at 6:15 o'clock tonight, in the dining room of the Y. M. C. A. building, marking inauguration of the Bible study club program. Dr. Durham will talk on "The Value of Bible Study."

Featuring the entertainment for the evening program will be singing by the Collegian quartet of Emory, consisting of Albert Kelley, Bob Martin, Lloyd Griffen and Rosser Smith. During the season the Bible study club will conduct four series of lectures. The first, by the Rev. N. R. High Moor, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, will be on the general subject, "Live On a Bounding Tide." The Rev. Ellis Fuller, newly-elected pastor of the First Baptist church, will conduct the second series on "God's Happy Man." The subject for the third series will be "The Twentieth Century Confirmation of the Scriptures," under leadership of the Rev. W. E. Davis, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, while the Rev. W. Y. Young, professor of Emory university, will conduct the last of the series, taking the subject, "A Comparative Study of the World's Great Religions."

Dean E. H. Johnson To Speak Tonight Before Credit Men

Edgar H. Johnson, dean of the School of Business Administration, of Emory university, will address the regular meeting of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men, at 6:30 o'clock tonight, in the tea room of M. Rich & Bros. Co., according to announcement by J. H. Sutton, chairman of the program. Dean Johnson will talk on "Socialistic Experiments."

SEIBERLING EXPANDS

Network Feature Adds Pacific Coast Stations.

All records for regular, weekly, broadcasting hook-ups for a half hour program were broken by the Seiberling Rubber company when, on Thursday evening, November 8, the Seiberling Singers went on the air through 37 stations of the National Broadcasting company's Pacific coast and Red Networks. The Seiberling chain becomes the largest 30-minute hook-up for a weekly program in the world—second, in fact, to only one 60-minute hook-up.

Close to 5,000,000 Pacific coast listeners-in will profit by the addition of five far-western stations. Coincident with the addition of these five units to the Seiberling hook-up, the Seiberling hour made other changes affecting east, south, central and mountain states. Three other stations will join the network—KOA at Denver, WTMJ, at Milwaukee, and WBT at Charlotte, N. C.—and the hour and day of broadcasting was changed from Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 8 o'clock to Thursday evenings from 8 to 8:30 o'clock. The change in the hour of broadcasting was necessitated by the addition of the west coast stations.

Negro Clubs To Meet.

Members of the colored social clubs will meet at 8:30 o'clock Friday night in the negro Y. M. C. A. The announcement was made Wednesday by a committee consisting of James E. Rogers, chairman; A. Barrett, secretary, and S. F. Davis, treasurer.

CURTIS, CALM, SPEEDS BACK TO WASHINGTON

Vice President-Elect Remains Secluded in Pullman Drawing Room.

Aboard Curtis Train, Deshler, Ohio, November 7.—(AP)—Traveling as ordinary passenger and with a minimum of ostentation, Vice President-elect Charles Curtis tonight was well on his way back to Washington drawing near the finish of the tour that led him 21,000 miles in his victorious campaign.

Manifestly worn by the strenuous months of traveling, the Kansas senator remained in the closest seclusion in his drawing room all day, retiring immediately after luncheon for an afternoon's rest. Only at Walkerton, Ind., where a party of republican leaders from South Bend had stood in a driving rain to shake his hand, did the veteran republican senator venture from his room and here the news of his passage had brought a small crowd. At other stations along the route, the presence of Mr. Curtis apparently was not known.

Despite his utter fatigue, Senator Curtis was happy over the results of the election and appeared to be jubilant over the republican congressional victories in Virginia and border states as reported to him from time to time. He seemed particularly tickled at the early returns from Iowa, indicating the Hoover

Curtis ticket had carried it by 2 to 1. It was here that the senator was heckled in a campaign speech on republican taxation policies.

SAVANNAH G. O. P. LEADER PREDICTS STATE PARTY SLATE

Savannah, Ga., November 8.—(AP)—In a statement, issued tonight, M. O. Dunning, collector of port here, and a republican leader in the state, tonight expressed the belief that in future Georgia political campaigns the republican party would have a slate including nominees for both municipal and state offices.

"There is now a political revolution in Georgia which will not be deterred by camouflage tactics," he said. "The good people who supported Hoover realize that there must be two parties in Georgia. They realize that a narrow personal fight between two individuals in the present one party has retarded the road building program of Georgia for eight years. They realize that the time has arrived when Georgia will not submit to the delay of her progress in order to settle family feuds."

GREEK STEAMER ASHORE EAST OF TANGIER

London, November 7.—(AP)—A Lloyd's dispatch from Gibraltar reports the Greek steamer Ioannis, bound from Villa Constitucion, Argentina, ashore east of Tangier. The crew was rescued and brought there.

DAUGHTER OF HANNA ELECTED TO CONGRESS

Chicago, November 7.—(AP)—The political prospects of her father, United States senator and maker of presidents, and her own astute political sense today won for Ruth Hanna McCormick a seat in congress. Coincidentally it was the tenth anniversary of her husband, the late Medill McCormick, to the United States senate.

When Mark Hanna determined to put William McKinley into the white house, he summoned his vast powers for organization and publicity and sent orators into every village and hamlet.

When his daughter determined to enter on a political career as a candidate for representative at large from Illinois, she took her cause into every one of the state's 102 counties. The full campaign found her touring Illinois with her fellow candidates on the republican ticket, making often three speeches a day, week after week. This was her debut in public office, yet Mrs. McCormick is no beginner in public life. Now 47 years old, she began her political schooling at the republican convention of 1890 in St. Louis, where her father achieved his ambition to bring about McKinley's nomination. She had attended every convention since. When Mark Hanna went to Washington as a senator, Ruth Hanna went along as his secretary. And when Medill McCormick was elevated to the senate 10 years ago, his wife stood by as his able counselor. Senator McCormick had a year of his first term to serve when he died.

SMITH LOSES HOME STATE BY 100,000

Roosevelt Almost Certain Winner in Governor's Race, However.

New York, November 7.—(AP)—Leaders of the Empire state democracy found some small consolation today when it became evident that they had elected their candidates for governor, United States senator, lieutenant governor, and comptroller, although Governor Alfred E. Smith, presidential nominee of the party, lost the state's forty-five electoral votes to Herbert Hoover by approximately 100,000 votes.

With only 100 up-state election districts unreported, the presidential vote was: Hoover 2,162,594; Smith 2,072,818; Hoover's actual plurality on returns at hand, 89,776. It was expected that the returns from the missing districts would add between 11,000 and 12,000 to the Hoover margin of safety.

Roosevelt Wins by 30,000.

For governor, Franklin D. Roosevelt, democrat, had pulled 2,085,522 votes to 2,054,347 given to Albert Ottinger, republican, with 150 up-state and two New York city districts unreported. The Roosevelt actual plurality of 41,175 was expected to be cut to slightly less than 30,000 when all returns were in.

Royal S. Copeland, democrat, seeking reelection to the United States senate, had received 2,004,298 votes as compared with 1,909,803 for Alanson B. Houghton, republican, with three New York city and 528 up-state districts unreported. The missing districts, situated in republican territory, were expected to reduce Copeland's actual plurality of 94,495 by about 50,000 votes.

Lehman Beats Lockwood.

Herbert H. Lehman, democrat, had a safe lead over Charles C. Lockwood, republican, in the race of lieutenant governor, and Morris S. Treman, democrat, was reelected comptroller, over Harry B. Crowley, republican.

The only victorious republican on the ticket of state officers was Hamilton Ward, candidate for attorney general, who outdistanced District Attorney Albert Conway, of Brooklyn, his democratic rival.

The political complexion of the legislature remained unchanged from last year, with 27 republicans and 24 democrats in the senate, and 88 republicans and 62 democrats in the assembly.

J. B. DEVONEY SEIZED IN FLORIDA LAND FRAUD

Chicago, November 7.—(AP)—John B. Devoney, prominent realtor and once a democratic primary candidate for governor, together with two other men, were arrested here today by federal officers on charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with a $10,000,000 land project in Florida. Others arrested were James O. Craig and M. A. Isaacs, both of Chicago.

The arrests were made after a secret indictment had been returned in Jacksonville, Fla., charging the men with fraud in the operation of the Daytona development, of Daytona Beach, Fla., of which Devoney was president.

It was charged that the men indicted misrepresented the value of the land, improvements and developments. Devoney gave a cash bond of $5,000 when arraigned in removal proceedings to Florida. A hearing was set for November 12.

HOOPER'S VOTE IS FIVE TO ONE IN HOME TOWN

Palo Alto, Cal., November 7.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover, first California resident to be elected to the presidency, carried his own home town by almost 5 to 1 over Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, his democratic opponent.

The complete vote for Palo Alto was: Hoover, 5,257; Smith, 1,141. The precinct in which Hoover lives and votes gave him 410 votes and Smith 60.

WORK 'MOST GRATIFIED' AT ELECTION RESULTS

Plans To Reorganize National Committee for Congressional Elections in 1930.

Denver, November 7.—(AP)—Declaring that he was "most gratified" at the results of the election, Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the republican national committee, today made plans for his return to Washington to attend to affairs of the committee.

Dr. Work, who received many telegrams of congratulations on the republican victory, said the party national committee would be reorganized for intensive work in preparation for the congressional elections two years hence and for the presidential campaign of 1932.

Of the telegrams received Dr. Work expressed himself as most pleased with the one from Herbert Hoover. It read: "There seems to be no end to the victory, and my first appreciation must go to the organizer of it."

G. O. P. CARRIES ALL CHOICES TO FORE IN INDIANA ELECTION

Indianapolis, November 7.—(AP)—Indiana voters reasserted their faith in republican administration of both state and national affairs in yesterday's election.

An avalanche of votes swept Herbert Hoover, Harry G. Leslie and United States Senator Arthur R. Robinson to victory in the presidential, governorship and senatorial contests. Hoover buried Governor Al Smith under the greatest plurality ever recorded in a presidential race in Indiana, carrying eighty-four of the state's ninety-two counties. Leslie's advantage over Frank C. Daily, democratic nominee for governor, slowly approached 50,000 as belated returns filtered in. Senator Robinson led the state ticket in votes received.

Protects children against SORE THROAT -kills germs in 15 seconds

Indoors one minute, outdoors the next, and careless about getting their feet wet, it's no wonder that children are constantly down with a sore throat or cold.

At the first sign of either, gargle with Listerine, full strength. It is powerful against germs which cause throat irritation. Even the virulent B. Typhosus (typhoid) germ yields to it in 15 seconds as repeated tests show. Yet it is safe and pleasant to use.

Keep a bottle handy and see that the entire family uses it systematically during winter weather. Until the doctor comes, it is splendid protection in cases of cold and sore throat. Write for our big free book.

"Personal Hygiene," Dept. S. 2, Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Avoid COLDS

Constant colds start when germs are carried to the mouth on food. By using Listerine on the hands before every meal, you attack such germs and lessen the risk of cold. Remember this, mothers, when handling baby's food.

FLORIDA ELECTORAL VOTES GO TO HOOVER

Latest Returns Only Serve
To Increase G. O. P.
Lead in State.

Jacksonville, Fla., November 7.—(AP)—It appeared tonight that Florida has given her six electoral votes to the republican party.

People and been talking about that possibility for years, ever since the state began to receive an influx of northern settlers, by the help of democrats was required to put it over. Herbert Hoover took the lead when the counting of yesterday's election returns began. He has held it with steadily increasing majority. Democratic headquarters today conceded his victory when 80 per cent of the 1,263 precincts in the state gave the republican nominee a vote of 106,233 compared with 97,747 for Governor Alfred E. Smith.

The majority of the democrats who preferred Hoover appeared, however, to have voted only for the national republican ticket, for the list of democratic nominees for congressional and state offices were given separate returns on the face of the incomplete returns.

The election saw the close of the most vigorously contested presidential campaign in more than fifty years. The Florida delegation at the national convention in Houston stood out against the nomination of G. O. P. Smith until the last. Later, several members of the delegation, including its chairman, took the field actively for Hoover.

"Hoover" organizations went into the field, and the state committee waged an intensive campaign, urging loyalty to the party. "Hoover" democrats, however, did not decline to vote for Smith, because, they claimed, the nominee had "repudiated" the party.

"From president to constable was the war cry of the democratic leaders who covered the state in a vast network, such as had not been seen in the history of presidential contests in Florida.

Republicans also went more extensively into the field. William J. Howey, the party's candidate for governor, waging a statewide campaign.

With 747 precincts tabulated, Howey was more than 40,000 votes behind Doyle E. Carlton, the democratic nominee, who amassed 93,355 votes compared with 53,853 for his opponent.

Democratic leaders generally have made little comment on the turn of affairs at the polls. On Tuesday morning they had confidently asserted that at least 68 per cent of the vote would go for Governor Smith on the basis of their analyses from the counties.

Chairman Harry H. Wells, of the state democratic executive committee in conceding the state to Hoover today, said he would not have a statement at this time. United States Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, however, was emphatic in asserting that he believed Florida "will realize she has made a mistake. There is nothing we can do but wait and hope," the veteran senator said.

If Howey polls 30 per cent of the total tabulated votes, all indications point, the republican party will be entitled under Florida law to hold a regular primary with the democrats. Formerly the percentage was fixed at six per cent, but later was raised to 30 per cent.

Republicans now must meet in convention in order to choose a party ticket in this state.

TRAMMELL VICTOR IN FLORIDA SENATE RACE BY OVER 47,000

Jacksonville, November 7.—(AP)—Park Trammell, reelected by Florida democrats as United States senator, tonight had a plurality of more than 47,000 votes over his republican opponent, Barclay H. Warburton, mayor of Palm Beach.

With 629 precincts tabulated, the vote was Trammell 58,037; Warburton 40,731.

ALABAMA SETS RECORDS IN SPIRITED ELECTION

Cast Largest Vote and G. O. P. Makes Best Showing in History.

Birmingham, Ala., November 7.—(AP)—Although Alabama remained in the traditional place in the electoral college by voting for Alfred E. Smith, democratic presidential nominee, it set several new records in Tuesday's balloting.

It cast the largest total vote in its political history. It rolled up five times greater vote than was ever before recorded a republican presidential candidate. It saw more than a third of its 67 counties return republican pluralities, and there was a possibility late today that it had elected a republican member of the national house of representatives for the first time in three-score years.

There were republican candidates in three of the state's ten federal districts and while returns from none of them was complete it soon became certain that Lamar Jeffries, in the fourth district, and William E. Bankhead, in the tenth, democratic incumbents, had been elected. In the seventh district Miles C. Algood, present representative, was in a neck and neck race with W. M. Sloan, republican.

In giving its 12 electoral votes to Smith the state recorded more than 241,000 ballots out of a total qualification list of approximately 300,000. With returns in from all the 1343 precincts and with only 19 small boxes to be heard from when tabulation ceased, the vote was: Smith 127,402; Hoover 113,525, an actual plurality for Smith of 13,877. The missing boxes, it was estimated, would not increase the state total by more than 500 votes.

Hoover had pluralities in 27 of the 67 counties but in some of these his margin was so slim that there was a possibility that the number would be reduced by the official canvass. Probably the closest county in the state was Madison, near the Muscle Shoals section. It gave the next president a plurality of six out of a total vote of 5,388. Its neighbor, Marshall county, was also close, going republican by only 78 votes out of a total of 4,891.

President-elect Hoover also carried Jefferson county of which Birmingham occupies the greater part. His managers had predicted a margin of around 5,000 but it turned out to be only 1,508 out of a total of 36,780. Close observers of the result, familiar with Alabama's political geography, pointed out that Hoover showed his greatest strength in the mining and milling section of which Birmingham is the center, and in the north-east corner of the state. Smith drew his greatest pluralities from Mobile, Montgomery and other thickly populated areas, in the cotton raising black belt and in the "wiregrass" section of the south and southeast. He also carried the counties in the immediate neighborhood of Muscle Shoals.

ALABAMA, FLORIDA NEW RAIL LINE IS DISAPPROVED

Washington, November 7.—(AP)—The project of the Alabama and Western Florida railroad to build 12 1/2 miles of new line from Chipley to Graceville, in Florida, was disapproved today by the interstate commerce commission. If the line is needed in the territory described, the commission concluded it should be built by the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

"It would seem that if and when the need developed for additional railroad facilities in the territory affected by the proposed extension, the commission said, 'such facilities should be provided by the Louisville and Nashville by the construction of a line from Graceville to Chipley or from Graceville to Cottondale, either of which would apparently improve the L. & N. route from Montgomery to River Junction. The application must, therefore, be denied.'"

ILLINOIS CENTRAL TRAIN IS WRECKED; 2 TRAINMEN DEAD

Memphis, Tenn., November 7.—(AP)—The Panama Limited, fast Illinois Central passenger train, left the rails one mile south of Centralia, Ill., early today instantly killing Engineer Fred Erskine, 55, and Fireman George Lang, 41, both of Centralia. Passengers escaped injury. A Pullman porter suffered a fracture of the shoulder, Mr. Imes said.

The train was enroute into Centralia when the engine left the track and three Pullmans were piled up and six cars left the track, according to the telegram.

The trainmen killed were ending their night's run at Centralia. The Panama Limited was enroute from New Orleans to Chicago.

Fulton, Ky., November 7.—(AP)—The Illinois Central railroad dispatcher's office said today that the Panama Limited which was wrecked near Centralia, Ill., this morning, ran past two black signals and over a derail. Five cars were derailed. Two passengers were reported slightly hurt.

MAJORITY FOR HOOVER GROWS IN VIRGINIA

Latest Returns Give Old Dominion State to G. O. P. by 20,000.

Richmond, Va., November 7.—(AP)—Virginia, the home of Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the democratic party, and for the past half-century one of the firmest supporters of that party of the "solid south" states, today spent its first day as a republican state by returning republican congressional candidates add to the victory registered by Herbert Hoover.

The Hoover vote mounted slowly as returns came from the mountain precincts in the southwestern sections of the state and his lead over Governor Smith stood more than 20,000 with returns from 1,548 out of 1,935 precincts. The vote was Hoover, 154,905; Smith, 132,907. There was every indication that the unprecedentedly large total vote of 300,000 would be recorded in the old dominion state and that Smith might receive as many votes as John W. Davis in 1924, 139,787.

James A. Garber, republican, became the second of his party to win a seat in the state's delegation in the house today when Representative of Thomas Harrison, democrat, of the seventh district, conceded the election.

STEVEDORING 'KING' OF NORTH RIVER 'TAKEN FOR RIDE'

New York, November 7.—(United News)—The body of Jimmy Monahan, czar of the North river docks, was found neatly folded up between the front and rear seats of a stolen automobile parked on a midtown street today.

Monahan had inherited the stevedoring rights along the North river from Linky Mitchell, murdered in a Greenwich Village resort a few months ago.

There were two bullet holes in Monahan's head, and his torn clothing indicated that the short-term "car" had put up a fight when he was "taken for a ride."

No arrests have been made.

Success Crowns Engagement Of American Opera Company

Concluding with the brilliant opera, "Carmen," a three-day musical festival that did honor to the entire cast and revealed the guiding skill of Director W. Rosing in the almost flawless presentation of each number in the repertoire for Atlanta, the American Opera company assured itself of a warm spot in the heart of theatergoers here before final dropping of the curtain at the Erlanger Wednesday night.

"Carmen," one of the most lyrical of the classics, proved a good test for the quality of the cast, and the latter did not fail in a single role to meet the demand. True enough, the title role gave Miss Betina Hall every opportunity of featuring the performance. But Miss Hall illustrated clearly that she needed nothing more than her personal charm, stage poise and excellent voice to carry the show before her, even if her part had been a smaller one.

This delightful gypsy Carmen held the audience as under a hypnotic spell but she was only repeating the success that heralded her coming to Atlanta from Chattanooga, where the company played last week.

The burst of applause that was destined to stop the show for several minutes came early in the second act, falling to the credit of Raymond Koch, who he rendered the favorite tondoro's song in the role of Escamillo. Both leading tenors, Koch and Charles Hedley, who ably handled the foremost male role in Dore Jones, were worthy supporters for Miss Hall.

"The marriage of Figaro," the pretty comic opera presented at the Wednesday matinee, under directorship of W. Rosing, was a most successful production. The opera, which was presented earlier in the week, further illustrated the quality of the American Opera company. In this opera Cecile Sherman, as Cherubino, was the star. Notable singing was done by Howard Laramy, Thelma Votkinska, Mark Daniels, John Moncrief, Edison Rice and Mary Silveira in the opera "Figaro."

In the attempt of the company to gain popularity with the public through productions rendered in English, lies the only question of doubt that could be raised by the organization. Through productions rendered in English, the only question of doubt that could be raised by the organization is the question of the quality of the English as it is possible with the more euphonic tones of Latin diction remains in doubt. For the talent of the cast, there can be not such doubt.

FULTON COUNTY GIVES HOOVER 496 MAJORITY

Herbert Hoover carried Fulton county by 496 votes, official consolidation Wednesday morning at the county's office revealed. The county vote for Governor Al Smith was 8,872 to a total of 9,368 for Hoover, the Hoover votes being divided between the republicans, 5,061, and the anti-Smith democrats, 3,407.

V. H. Stanley won in Fulton county over his opponent for prison commissioner, A. H. Hensley, by a vote of 13,575 to 11,716.

The workers' party polled 11 votes for presidential electors, and the socialist party 47, according to the official Fulton count.

Votes for the constitutional amendments, all of which carried in Fulton county by large majorities, follow:

For Against.
City of LaGrange waterworks 8,871 1,083
Authorizing Fulton county and Chattahoochee county to make loans 8,162 1,577
Ware county bonds 8,718 1,047
Zoning and planning laws for cities named 7,125 1,356
Columbus street improvement bonds 8,666 1,185
Increasing Chattahoochee county judges' salaries 8,110 1,501
Establishment of other courts in certain counties in lieu of justice of peace courts 7,941 1,730
Prescribing duties of state officials and providing expenses for operation of departments 8,435 1,299
The total number of votes cast for the state democratic unopposed ticket, led by Governor Hardman, was 14,155.

"FIREBUG" SOUGHT FOLLOWING BLAZE ON WINDSOR ST.

A fire, thought to have been incendiary in its origin, did considerable damage to the home of M. C. McMurray, at 562 Windsor street, shortly after 9 o'clock Wednesday night.

McMurray told all officers Glover and Williams that at about 8 o'clock he heard sounds at the rear of the house and went out to find a small blaze burning at the outside wall and a negro running from the scene. He extinguished this fire without difficulty, he said, and returned to the house.

About an hour later, McMurray said, he was aroused by a crackling sound and ran out to find the wall burning fiercely. Firemen were summoned and the blaze soon was brought under control. Officers were furnished with a good description of the negro by McMurray, who stated that he had seen the alleged "firebug" around the vicinity on several occasions.

MYSTERY KILLING IN ALABAMA LAID TO ELECTION ROW

Clanton, Ala., November 7.—(AP)—Clanton police were probing the mysterious death of Lee Traywick here today in the belief that he was fatally injured during a series of election disorders last night.

Traywick was believed by police to have been struck on the head during one of several fights which broke out while the town's votes were being cast. He was found unconscious this morning on a road just outside the city and died without regaining consciousness.

Hospital authorities reported that Traywick died as the result of hemorrhage of the brain, apparently caused by a blow on the head. Police had been unable tonight to find anyone who saw Traywick struck during the election disorders.

RADIOING THE AIR WAVES

BY THE DIAL TWISTED

The beauty of the modern American girl is to be glorified on the air. Beginning at 7 o'clock tonight over WLS and the N. B. C. chain, a half hour's broadcast entertainment will be devoted to this theme each week for a year, with Charles Dana Gibson, publisher of Life and creator of the "Gibson Girl," as the premier speaker on the popular subject, "Why are American women beautiful and what made them so?"

The occasion will be the first on which Mr. Gibson ever appeared before the microphone. In subsequent broadcasts he will be followed by the best known experts on the woman beautiful, including Paul Poiret, the famous designer; McClelland Barclay, the artist, and other leaders among illustrators, motion picture directors and fashion creators.

There will also be music appropriate to the subject of the hour, provided by a ten-piece novelty orchestra under the direction of Jack Shilkrut, brother of N. A. Shilkrut, the symphony conductor, and by one of the best male quartets in radio today.

The new hour will be known as the "Leah and Pink" broadcast. In his talk tonight Mr. Gibson will compare the Gibson girl with the girl of today and will explain what makes blondes beautiful and what makes brunettes beautiful. He will also make a list of the great artists of the world's experts on the love of women. His talk and the musical program accompanying it will be broadcast by the National Broadcasting company.

Charles Dana Gibson.

His long career as an illustrator and his association with a family of famous beauties—the Virginia Langhorns, of whom one is his wife and another is Lady Astor—have given Mr. Gibson the reputation of being one of the world's experts on the love of women. His talk and the musical program accompanying it will be broadcast by the National Broadcasting company.

Taking the American radio audience back ten years, when all America was singing "K-K-K-Katy" and "Tinky Dinky, Parlay Voon," and celebrating the end of the world war, Forthman's Song Shop tonight will observe the anniversary of the armistice over the air.

Broadcasting the new WSAI and the N. B. C. network at 7 p. m., this radio feature will present its great artists George Frey O'Hara, who wrote "K-K-K-Katy," Al Dubin, who wrote the copyrighted edition of "Tinky Dinky, Parlay Voon," and with them Maurice Stenher, star of the new New York State American Legion, which has cooperated with Dubin in his musical memories of France. With the guests on the air the Song Shop will offer its regular star artists, including the New York quartet, in O'Hara's and Dubin's old and new songs.

"Guns," considered by O'Hara as his best work, and representing a condemnation of war, will be heard for the first time by the American radio public when the Song Shop goes on the air. At noon Thursday it will be heard by the New York Rotary club at Waldorf Astoria luncheon; the next night it will be heard at the annual Armistice ball at the Hotel Gramatan in Bronxville, and beginning November 10 it will go on at Roy's theater nightly with a large chorus and orchestra.

Dubin's newest, "Mona Vanna," which like his "Memories of France," has been a smash hit, will be heard for the first time by the American radio public when the Song Shop goes on the air. At noon Thursday it will be heard by the New York Rotary club at Waldorf Astoria luncheon; the next night it will be heard at the annual Armistice ball at the Hotel Gramatan in Bronxville, and beginning November 10 it will go on at Roy's theater nightly with a large chorus and orchestra.

The Sonora Hour, which will be broadcast this evening from the Columbia system at 8 o'clock, will present a well-balanced program of classical selections, dance selections from the latest Broadway hits, vocal and instrumental solos.

The brilliant young baritone, Jerome Swinford, will be the feature artist. A few years ago Mr. Swinford was singing with the Princeton Glee club. Today he is an established artist. He has appeared as soloist with the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra, the Philadelphia Orchestra, and the New York City Symphony orchestra.

During the Sonora hour he will sing "Vision Fugitive," from "Hercules" of Massenet, and "On the Road to Mandalay," Kipling's famous poem set to music by Ole Olsen. With Miss Cro, contralto, he will sing a duet.

Other entertainment during his program, which is broad cast direct from the Sonora recording laboratory, will include Technicon's "Sleeping Beauty Waltz," Hadley's "Atone of Pan," Giocondi's "Dance of the Hours," and Debussy's "Clair de Lune," all played by the Sonora Symphony orchestra; several popular Broadway selections played by the Pioneers, light classics played by the Mayfair House Salon orchestra and instrumental solos.

During the Sonora hour he will sing "Vision Fugitive," from "Hercules" of Massenet, and "On the Road to Mandalay," Kipling's famous poem set to music by Ole Olsen. With Miss Cro, contralto, he will sing a duet.

Other entertainment during his program, which is broad cast direct from the Sonora recording laboratory, will include Technicon's "Sleeping Beauty Waltz," Hadley's "Atone of Pan," Giocondi's "Dance of the Hours," and Debussy's "Clair de Lune," all played by the Sonora Symphony orchestra; several popular Broadway selections played by the Pioneers, light classics played by the Mayfair House Salon orchestra and instrumental solos.

The Sonora Hour, which will be broadcast this evening from the Columbia system at 8 o'clock, will present a well-balanced program of classical selections, dance selections from the latest Broadway hits, vocal and instrumental solos.

The brilliant young baritone, Jerome Swinford, will be the feature artist. A few years ago Mr. Swinford was singing with the Princeton Glee club. Today he is an established artist. He has appeared as soloist with the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra, the Philadelphia Orchestra, and the New York City Symphony orchestra.

30,000 Expected To Pack Grant Field for Tech-Vandy Game

Dodgers Take Six Crackers For Training

Gilbert, Dudley, Rhiel, Callop, West and Rauch Will Leave Club in '29.

Brooklyn, November 7.—(United News.)—The Brooklyn Dodgers have recalled, drafted and purchased 16 new players for the 1929 season, President Wilbert Robinson announced today.

The new list includes five pitchers, one catcher, two infielders and eight outfielders, as follows:

Pitchers: Win Ballou, drafted from Milwaukee; Elzie Dudley, purchased from Atlanta; Austin Moore, purchased from Macon; Norcum Rauch, purchased from Atlanta; James Rich, purchased from New Haven.

Infielders: Leo Bader, recalled from Macon; Walter Gilbert, purchased from Atlanta; William Rhiel, recalled from Atlanta.

Catcher: Alfonso Lopez, recalled from Macon.

Outfielders: Nick Colton and Max West, recalled from Atlanta; John Frederick, purchased from Memphis; Ernest Niezke, recalled from Pueblo.

Max Rosenfeld, purchased from Birmingham; Vernon Tremain, recalled from Macon; and Lee, recalled from Macon.

Eight teams, forming the largest "A" league in the city playing boys' rules, are entered and as they have been contesting in the sales of tickets for this series of games a record-breaking crowd is looked for.

Although three of the clubs are making their debut along with the opening of the season, the teams have been secured and they are expected to play up to league standard, and the return of practically all players from the past year's clubs assures them strong teams.

To assist the teams the officials who are assigned to the games as listed below have donated their services for this night, and as the clubs share in the gate receipts they should be able to start the season financially ahead.

The Central Presbyterian court is located at the corner of Hunter and Washington streets and is accessible to all car lines. The schedule for the night with the referee for each game is as follows:

7:00 p. m.—Patillo Memorial vs. J. O. Class, Referee, Frank Kopf.

7:20 p. m.—Central Presbyterian vs. Western Heights, Referee, Bill Gage.

8:00 p. m.—Avondale Presbyterian vs. College Park Methodist, Referee, Red Collins.

8:20 p. m.—Peachtree Christian vs. Associate Reform Presbyterian, Referee, Bill Walker.

Wins Flag and Quits.

Frank Snyder quit as Houston manager after winning a title, Bill McKee, another winner, is still threatened by the Cards, and Bruno Bietel, manager of the Indianapolis champions, was the next to consider a new job.

FAVORITE RETURNS

Paul Jones, Atlanta's favorite, will make his first appearance in Atlanta this season tonight at the City Auditorium when he tackles Paul Harper, University of Texas star, in the semi-final match of the wrestling card arranged by John Contos. Jones is well liked here and should draw a good crowd.

Zbyszko, Browning Grapple Here Tonight

Paul Jones and Paul Harper Will Match Holds in Semi-Final—Fan to Be Awarded.

More announcement that the 50-year-old marvel of the mat, Stanislaus Zbyszko, is to appear is generally all that is required to attract a great crowd in any city. So it probably will be tonight, for the ancient Polander, three times champion of the world, will shuffle out to the center of the ring once more in defense of his mat prestige, this time opposed to Big Jim Browning, of Wichita, Kan., who doubts the ability of the "Old Man" to fasten his shoulders to the canvas.

One of the greatest names in all sport is that of Zbyszko. The world renown that Stanislaus was unable to attain was won by his younger brother, Wladek, who had wrestled in all the countries of the map, just as has Stanislaus, and himself at one time was the champion of the world.

It has been a year or more since Stanislaus, bald of head and bare of foot when he steps on the mat, appeared before an Atlanta crowd. He was always popular here. So is Browning, who has won approximately ten out of twelve matches here. Thus it appears to be a toss-up as to which will win the greater applause of the patrons tonight.

Zbyszko Favored.

Many in the crowd are bound to favor Zbyszko, however, because of his advanced age for a man in such a grueling business. That Stanislaus has been a year or more since Stanislaus, bald of head and bare of foot when he steps on the mat, appeared before an Atlanta crowd. He was always popular here. So is Browning, who has won approximately ten out of twelve matches here. Thus it appears to be a toss-up as to which will win the greater applause of the patrons tonight.

Vandy Pays Are Discussed By Alexander

Tornado in Good Shape for Big Game; Westbrook Only Jacket Ailing.

BY HERB CLARK.

The advent of a spell of weather of the type for ducks impelled Coach Alexander to chase his Yellow Jackets inside the gym at the Flats for their workout Wednesday afternoon.

Wednesday's session was very light. A skill practice, followed by a signal drill, was the menu for the Jacks.

Though plenty of scrimmaging is necessary to polish the squad up for the Vandy fray, this drill with its attendant letdown will not hurt the Techsters to any great extent.

The injury bugaboo has been singularly lenient with the Techsters this season, and the master minds are unwilling to take any chances with their men in the face of the schedule which has been laid out for them.

To take such teams as Vandy, Alabama, Auburn and Georgia down on successive dates is a task which would be relished by no coach in the country, no matter what material he had on hand.

The entire Tech squad is intact and able to perform at present. Westbrook is the only man bearing signs of too much inactivity, and his broken hand will be off before the Commodores arrive for the big struggle Saturday.

Vandy plays were the subject of the mental session, and the reactions of the squad were such as to show that they are on their toes for the coming battle. The signal drill also brought forth some good, fast work.

The coming struggle is being generally regarded as the peak battle of the southern conference schedule, and from the reports from Nashville and the appearance of the Jacket squad, predictions are as high as can be.

Ban on Tilden Now Extended To 34 Nations

U. S. L. T. A. Demands Affiliated Countries Bar Star From Courts.

New York, November 7.—(AP)—Big Bill Tilden now finds himself not only an exile from the courts of his own land but literally a man without a country so far as his right to play amateur tennis is concerned.

By order of the International Lawn Tennis Federation, which has applied to the American "old ball" which says the international body has sent to all of the associations affiliated with it a copy of the resolution disqualifying Tilden together with an order that "conforming with our rulings you will kindly extend this action also to your association."

A glance at the world-wide membership roster of the international federation quick shows that the only territory still available to Tilden for tournament competition comprises such countries as Russia and Abyssinia where the citizens probably would find some difficulty in distinguishing a service ace from a lob.

The nations which have received the "communication order" and are required by the federation to comply with it are Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Chile, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Egypt, Ecuador, France, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Holland, Hungary, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Jugoslavia, Mexico, Monaco, New Zealand, Paraguay, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and Venezuela. These together with the United States comprise the international body.

Howard University's invasion of Dixie Saturday for a game with Atlanta University will bring together two of the leading colored colleges of the nation, who they must be the field for the first intercollegiate clash of the colored football season Saturday at 2 p. m.

Two widely known colored bands will be in the line, and the game will be a real test of the Washingtonians to victory and revenge.

More than 500 out-of-town guests have already made reservation for this classic and tickets are going at a rapid pace. It is expected that a crowd of 8,000 will witness the game.

"Chief" Aiken has been sending his charges at full speed this week in a final effort to build a defense that will stand up to the attack of Howard in Washington 7-0.

With five all-American men in the line of the Hurricane, it has for the last two years been considered the best forward wall in the south.

All of these were split by the team which broke up countless Hoosier were noticed and three mentors have been working overtime to get the machine in condition. Coach Walker seems to have a backfield situation going well. They are running true to form," the coach stated, "and with a hard-charging line we will give Howard a battle they will never forget."

An elaborate dance has been arranged by the alumni association of the school on the roof of the Old Fellows' building on Auburn avenue, where the two teams will be the guests of honor.

The game was on sale at the Yates & Milton drug store on Auburn avenue and the athletic department at Atlanta University.

Leading roles and they crowd plenty of romance into some situations intensely exciting.

Alamo No. 2.

Little Eva has become a gold digger. Margery Whittington, former Ziegfeld Follies girl, who played "Little Eva" in Gloria Swanson's "Stage Struck," has been cast as a gold digger in Richard Dix' Paramount starring picture, "Paradise for Two," now showing at Alamo No. 2 theater.

Supporting Dix in the cast are Betty Bronson, Anna Beranger and Edmy Breeze.

Empire.

"Hold 'Em, Yale," the smashing college romance, starring Rod La Rosque, breathing the spirit of undergraduate life—football, boxing, student activities of every description, packed with color and charm, will be the offering today at the Empire theater, corner of Georgia avenue and Crew street. Rod is shown as a young chap from Argentina who is in love with the daughter of a university professor. He does big things for his college and in doing them he provides spectators with thrill after thrill.

Cameo.

The Astor gives her admirers a new type of beauty at the Cameo theater today in "Heart to Heart," the feature in which she shares honors with Lloyd Hughes. In other scenes of the picture she plays a beautiful white wig. Louise Fazenda is also in the cast.

Metropolitan.

"Showgirl," at the Metropolitan this week, is proving its popularity by steadily increasing patronage. It is taken from the popular best seller by J. P. McEvoy and presents dainty Alice White as a witty, witty girl who dashed her way to the top. Frank Campeau, veteran stage star, and Roy Stewart, are seen and heard in Vitaphone's "Across the Border" on the same program.

Loew's Grand.

The popular comedy feature, "Caught in the Fog," with strong melodramatic scenes offered here and there will open a three-week engagement Thursday at Loew's Grand theater, playing its first return engagement here at popular prices. Conrad Nagel and May McAvoy are in the

Improved Notre Dame Team Will Face Army

Cadets Fear Rockne's Irish Warriors—Cagle and His Mates Carry Clean Slate Into Battle.

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY.

New York, November 7.—(United News.)—The Army fears Notre Dame.

West Point scouts who looked over Rockne's Ramblers in action against Penn State at Philadelphia last week report that the November Notre Dame team is a vastly improved machine over the one which floundered at Madison, Wis., and Atlanta, Ga., in October.

Notre Dame made a touchdown after a steady march in the first quarter and then settled down to hold the lead without exploding any of the rockets planned for Army. The South Bend eleven piled up 18 first downs and gained 286 yards on straight football. Penn State made only two first downs and gained 114 yards.

Notre Dame completed one out of 10 passes attempted for a gain of 12 yards. Penn State attempted 10 passes, all failed. The final score was 9 to 0.

Fred Collins, who fractured his arm in the first game of the season against Loyola (New Orleans), returning to the Notre Dame backfield and played brilliantly with his arm in a plaster cast. He may be able to discard the cast for the Army game.

Nieme and Chevigny, first string halfbacks, acquired themselves well and Joe Carriedo, a third string quarterback from Green Bay, Wis., plunged over for the only touchdown.

The Army regulars got a badly needed rest last week after two big games in succession against Harvard and Yale and the second and third string teams beat Depauw, from Greensburg, Ind., 38-12. Johnny Murrell, husky fullback, was the only Army regular who played, but he received a 10 to 0 victory.

The Municipal stadium at Los Angeles can handle close to 90,000 spectators. The University of California stadium at Berkeley can accommodate more than 5,000, where 20,000 more can look down from the hills or plateau above. The Yale bowl, with about 75,000 seats, can take care of nearly 80,000 spectators. Somewhere in that neighborhood.

The University of Michigan stadium, at Ann Arbor, can put away more than 80,000, and so can the big arena Ohio university has at Columbus.

The Memorial stadium at Illinois can handle more than 75,000 now, and it will be extended to let 100,000 look on to where the largest stadium, bowl or football arena now stands in United States.

The largest, undoubtedly, is Soldier field, Chicago, where they can handle more than 140,000 spectators, and where the capacity can be extended to 165,000 when needed.

There are now at least 10 stadiums in this country that can together furnish space for 800,000 spectators, and there are any number of others large enough to handle crowds ranging from 35,000 to 55,000.

This may seem to some to be overemphasis, but if it is all right for 30,000 to look at a game, why is it wrong for 80,000 to attend?

It has never occurred to a number of the complainants that there are a number of worse things than 80,000 people can do than to take a Saturday off for a football game.

Western Nominations.

Dear Sir: They elected the best center in the west when Ohio State defeated Indiana. He is Fred Barratt, of Ohio, who weighs 252 pounds in his playing clothes. Before that game it was voted that Randolph, of the Hoosiers, was about the best center seen in the conference since Jack Young, of Michigan. But before that game the first half was over Randolph was on the bench and Barratt went merrily on his way making tackle after tackle.

Two Big Tilts Last of Week In Conference

Georgia and Florida Clash at Savannah in Biggest Games on Saturday.

BY HORACE KENEGAR.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

The nebulous sea upon which the Vanderbilt Commodores sail is already being whipped high by the fabulous Tornado of Georgia Tech and Saturday the multitudes will see a mighty elementary football battle between the two.

Advance indications point to a crowd of 20,000 witnessing this clash of unbent Dixie eleven, both in a tie for southern conference leadership with Tennessee and Florida. More than 20,000 seats already are sold while the capacity of Grant field is approximately 36,000.

Stories of injuries are emanating from both camps. The Commodores have McGaughey injured, and Loeley ill; the Tornado has Holland out and Drennon and Westbrook recuperating just enough to possibly start.

Each team has won three conference games and all on side contests. The experts find a battle between two great lines assured and a fireworks display between Armstrong, McGaughey, Schwartz and McIlwain of Vandy and Thompson, Mizell, Lumpkin, Dunlap and Randolph of Tech.

This, however, is not the only great clash of the day in the southern conference. Georgia's Bulldogs are scheduled in Dixie, and Florida's Alligators, tied for the conference lead and unbeaten within or without the organization.

All is not promising from an Alligator viewpoint, however. Coach Charlie Hachman has announced that severe colds would probably keep Bryan, tackle, and Clemons, center, from the lineup. Georgia is in better shape concerning hurts and McCarry, great fullback of a year ago, will be ready to go again.

This conflict of Savannah will find Florida placing some great ground-gainers in the field against a renewed Georgia secondary. It will be Crabtree, Owens, Brumbaugh, Bowyer and Bertha on the Alligators against such stars as Hooks, Dudley, McCarry, Johnson, Hill and Cook for the Bulldogs.

Louisiana State, another unbeaten conference eleven, will get real test in Ole Miss at Baton Rouge; rejuvenated Auburn may give Tulane trouble at New Orleans; the Virginia Polytechnic Institute will put on another of those fierce intra-state struggles at Blacksburg; South Carolina will invade North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Tennessee meets Sewan at Knoxville; Alabama hopes for another conference victory against Kentucky at Montgomery; and Clemson has a tough job in Virginia Military institute at Lynchburg.

CONFERENCE OF M. E. CHURCH OPENS TODAY

South Georgia Meeting To Hold Business Sessions Thursday.

Columbus, Ga., November 7.—(AP)—Twenty or more boards and standing committees of the South Georgia conference, Methodist Episcopal church, south, were in session here today preliminary to formal opening tomorrow of business sessions of the conference.

From one of the committee conferences came the announcement that Rev. D. G. Mann, pastor at Claxton, Ga., had been named extension secretary of the Sunday school department.

The appointment of the Rev. Mr. Mann, who will be associated with Rev. George E. Clary, conference Sunday school superintendent, is to be placed before Bishop W. B. Beauchamp for formal confirmation.

A chaplain in the American expeditionary forces during the war, the Rev. Mr. Mann has long been active in welfare and camp work, and represented the Columbus council, Boy Scouts of America, at a national council in New York in 1926. He directed camp work on numerous occasions while pastor of St. Luke's church, Columbus.

New Missions Created.

The Rev. Mr. Clary was elected Sunday school superintendent; Miss Jewel Heath, assistant superintendent; Miss Julia Butler, conference elementary superintendent; Rev. James R. Webb is president of the conference Sunday school board.

Ten new missions were created by the board of missions; J. A. Roberts, Irwinton, Baxley, Savannah city mission, Hilltonia, Bridgeboro, Doerun, Chula and West Green.

Plans for advancing mission activity in industrial sections was discussed at a noon luncheon at which the mission board and presiding elders were guests of the Bibb Manufacturing company.

Tonight's program was featured by the sermon by Dr. W. L. Duren, of Atlanta.

Missionaries Paid.

Committees were at work today, and much of the important work of the session will be well in hand by tomorrow morning's session. The board of missions, presided over by Dr. Edmund F. Cook, president of the board, received reports from the treasurer showing that all conference missionaries had received their missionary checks in full. Rev. H. G. Jones, pastor of Methodist church at Mountanna, was elected temporary secretary of this board.

The following charges were continued as missions and will receive financial assistance from the board of missions for the coming year: Duncansville, Leary, Parrott, Springdale, Cuscuta, Howard, Marion, Mauk, Hamp Stevens Memorial at Columbus, Omaha, Talbot, Wynton, Myrtle, Pineview, Rehoboth, Brewton, Dexter, Centenary, Dublin Mission, Kite, Scott, Stillmore, Swainsboro circuit, Wrightsville, Cross Keys, Tennille, Warthen, Graham, West Green, Guyton, Oliver, Rineon, Grace and Trinity, Remerton, Alma, Axson, Brunswick, it at Albany, Barwick, Claxton, Faceville, Metcalf, Pavo, Jakin, West Bainbridge, Berlin, Hahira, Lake Park, and Mission, Hebardville, Ludowick, Nahant, Warren, Waresboro.

The following appeared before the board of admissions and filed application for admission into the ranks of the conference: Albert C. Outler, son of Rev. John M. Outler, presiding elder of the Macon district; C. A. Jackson, Jr., and F. A. Jackson, both sons of Rev. C. A. Jackson, pastor of the Bainbridge church; Royal Page, Vidalia; C. C. Smoak, Valdosta.

NORTH GEORGIA A. M. E. MEETINGS CONTINUE

Washington, Ga., November 7.—(Special.)—The north Georgia annual conference of the A. M. E. church, convened in Jackson chapel A. M. E. church, here today, Rev. J. L. Shropshire, pastor.

The conference was opened by Bishop W. A. Fountain, D. D. Ph. D., presiding bishop of the sixth Episcopal district, and his presiding elders assisted him in conducting the religious devotions. The conference love feast followed with the annual sermon by the Rev. C. C. Esley, of Acworth, Ga., who preached on "The Holy Spirit being in the midst of the messengers of peace."

At the conclusion of the sermon, the holy communion was administered, Bishop Fountain, celebrant. This religious attitude has met with divine favor and much good has been done as a result, as a Christian body, leaders stated.

The conference was perfected in organization, in electing R. J. Jefferson, S. F. Harris, J. R. Wilcher, secretaries; H. F. Chinn, W. E. McDowell, J. H. Kimbrow, marshals. Representatives of church periodicals, R. E. Romans, Christian Recorder; C. P. Hobbs, the Southern Christian Recorder; F. Roundtree, Western Christian Recorder; W. N. Jones, The Voice of Missions; F. L. Hadley, The Woman's Missionary Recorder. The conference budget of finances is represented as follows: Dr. J. A. Hadley, chairman; Dr. S. F. Harris, urer; Drs. J. R. Fleming, J. T. Wilkinson, W. J. James, C. C. Esley; I. Hartgrove, for admission; B. O. Griffin, James Weaver; representing church departments as follows: J. T. Wilkinson, publication department, Philadelphia; G. B. Jackson, Southern Recorder department, Nashville; R. J. Jefferson, The Voice of Missions department, New York city; M. A. Fountain, The A. M. E. Review, New York; J. T. Linton, the Western Christian Recorder department, Los Angeles.

Dr. J. A. Hadley was elected press dispatch news reporter. The conference is largely attended by representatives throughout the state. S. C. Simmons, head of the woman's publication department of the A. M. E. church, addressed the missionary body today. The wife of Bishop Fountain, connectional treasurer of the W. H. F. M. society of the church and superintendent of the missionary work in Georgia, assured full support of the claims at the close of the address.

Bishop Fountain's annual address was made to the body here today and was declared to be the best ever heard by the conference. The conference is in good shape and fine spirit is seen in the sessions. Rev. W. A. Green and Dr. C. A. Wingfield were transferred to the north Georgia conference. Drs. F. R. Sims, W. O. Slade, of the south Georgia conference, addressed the body here today.

EMBEZZLER GETS SENTENCE OF YEAR IN ATLANTA PEN
Macon, Ga., November 7.—(AP)—William A. Lewis, former bookkeeper in the Exchange National bank of Albany, Ga., was sentenced by Judge Bascom S. Deaver in United States district court here today to serve a year and a day in the federal penitentiary in Atlanta, after he pleaded guilty to embezzling $3,000 of the bank funds.

In presenting the case to the court, District Attorney Scott Russell stated that Lewis took the entire amount at one time.

There were a number of cases before federal court, most of them for violations of the prohibition law.

PUBLIC IS URGED TO SUPPORT DANCE GIVEN BY D. A. V.

Increasing public response to appeal by the Betty Harrison Jones chapter of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War for support of the dance and entertainment program to be given at Garber's hall on November 14, was cited Wednesday by O'Glen Ray, acting chairman of the executive committee.

In his statement Mr. Ray pointed out the urgent need of accumulating funds to aid those disabled veterans who have not yet been able to obtain financial and medical assistance from the government.

The approach of Armistice Day has made many persons mindful of the valuable services given by these men during the war and of the obligations due to them, Mr. Ray said. "Several thousand people in the Atlanta territory who seem surprised to learn that many of the men who gave up good jobs and happy homes 10 years ago are now actually in want have sought actual statistics from my office," he said, adding that plans for the benefit program to be held next week are being formulated on an elaborate scale.

GEORGE HARSH TAKEN TO TOWER HOSPITAL

Physicians To Complete Mental Examination of Prisoner.

George Harsh, who was indicted jointly with Richard Gray Gallogly for two murders in recent holdups, Wednesday was transferred to the jail hospital under court order, it was announced at Fulton Tower. The transfer was made in order that physicians examining Harsh may observe him closely and obtain an analysis of his spinal fluid, it was said.

Harsh is being examined by Dr. Frank Eskridge, who has already X-rayed the youth and made a partial examination for the purpose of determining his mental condition.

Harsh and Gallogly were indicted for the slaying of S. H. Meeks and Willard Smith in a recent series of holdups of local stores.

Olive and Palm Oils

The basis of a true complexion soap to use with make-up

Daily cleansing Nature's absolute rule if the charm of natural loveliness is to be yours.

HERE is the beauty method millions practice every night before bed to gain the charm of natural loveliness. It starts with complete and proper removal of the make-up—the grime and grease exuded from the pores—at least once daily. Massage your face with the abundant lather of olive and palm oils as found in Palmolive Soap. It is a soap made for beauty, nothing else. And no other soap combines, in scientific blend, these beautifying oils. Spend several minutes at your basin doing this. Use your two hands—that's Nature's way. The creamy, soothing lather thoroughly penetrates each tiny pore—gently releases their accumulation of oil and powder and rouge. Then rinse your face carefully, first with warm water, then cold. And pat the skin with a soft towel until it's dry. A dab of cold cream to ward off dryness is the last touch. That is all, but it's Nature's way to that schoolgirl complexion. Just be sure you get Palmolive—that's important. Use a cake anywhere. Colgate-Palmolive-Pet Co., Chicago, Ill.

Bride-Elect, Bride and Visitor To Be Honored at Social Events

A bride-elect, a recent bride and a popular visitor feature today's calendar as central features in beautiful parties given in their honor. Miss Virginia Howard, who has been honored at many pre-nuptial affairs, continues to be feted today with a luncheon at the Atlanta Athletic club, given by Miss Mary Middleton, and a bridge-tee at which Miss Mary Rhyer will be hostess at her home on The Prado. Miss Howard and Mr. Barrett's wedding will be a lovely event of Friday evening, November 16, taking place at St. Luke's Episcopal church. Assembling an attractive group of the younger social contingent will be the buffet supper given by Mrs. F. B. Eiche at her home on Peachtree circle, honoring her daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. James Browner Little, of Gadsden, Ala., who are her guests for the week. They will remain to attend the Tech-Vanderbilt football game, which is an annual classic, taking place on Grant field Saturday, November 10.

Miss Elizabeth Roberts, of Omaha, Neb., who is visiting Miss Martha Lewis at her home on Springdale road, is being entertained at a series of interesting affairs. Today's party in her honor is a luncheon, given by Miss Palmer Dallas at her home on Peachtree road. Of particular interest to many Atlantans is the meeting of the Alliance Francaise, which assembles at the home of Mrs. Hal Davison at 3:30 o'clock, to attend a very interesting lecture given by Professor W. A. Strozler, of the French department of Emory university, on Moliere, the ever fascinating French dramatist, whose drollery is as modern and appealing now as in the golden era of French literature. The Atlanta chapter of the Service Star legion will tribute to the state president of the Georgia division of that organization, Mrs. L. P. Rosser, today at a luncheon at the Atlanta Woman's club, which will assemble a group of distinguished Georgia Women.

Spring Hill Club Holds Meeting.

The Spring Hill Woman's club met Tuesday afternoon, November 6, at the home of Mrs. Robert Baugh, the president, Mrs. W. M. Jenkins, presiding. It was decided that an effort will be made to continue the improvement of the interurban car stops adjoining Spring Hill and Aiken streets, these stations having been made attractive by the efforts of the club, and for the improvement of the public highway by erecting the rugged banks with vines. Mrs. S. C. Atkinson spoke of the value of pecans near Thomasville. Mrs. J. L. Turner, of Marietta, was asked to speak on the plan of planting tulip in Cobb county. A garden section was organized. It will join with Mrs. Turner in planting a bed of tulips.

Womanless Wedding To Be Given Monday.

A "Womanless Wedding" will be given at the Pottville Memorial Methodist church, West College and Field avenue, Decatur, Monday evening, November 12, at 8 o'clock, by the men of Pottville Memorial and Epworth churches. The cast will include the following: Rev. W. M. Twigg, A. D. Hardin, Henry Plunkett, J. M. Dixon, Jim Conliff, A. B. Carver, T. H. Thompson, Roy Almond, C. N. Weems, Mr. Peck, Albert Cook, Joe and Charles Carver, Billy Jeffers, Glenn Rynearson, and others. Grady Goode, superintendent of the adult department of the Pottville Memorial church, a gifted impersonator, will render several songs in his falsetto voice. The price of admission is 25 cents.

Mrs. Angle To Wed John F. Gillilan.

Mrs. Clara Miller Angle, daughter of Mrs. John H. Miller, and John Frederick Gillilan, formerly of Boston, Mass., now of Atlanta, will wed Thursday evening, November 8, at the home of the bride's mother on Lindale road. Dr. E. R. Leyburn, pastor of First Presbyterian church will be officiating minister. Mrs. Angle will have no attendants but will be given in marriage by her brother, George Miller. John Gossett, Atlanta will be Mrs. Gillilan's best man. Mrs. Miller will entertain at a reception following the ceremony. Many out of town guests will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Beers Entertain Party From Nashville

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Beers will entertain at a house party during the week-end at their home in Druid Hills honoring a group from Nashville, Tenn., who will attend the Tech-Vanderbilt football game while in the city. Mrs. E. J. Wallace, Jr., and Mrs. Thomas L. Herbert, of Nashville, are now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Beers. Mr. Wallace, Mr. Herbert, Ned Wallace and Mr. H. T. Hill, of Nashville, arrived Saturday morning to join the party here.

A number of informal affairs have been planned for the group while in the city. Mr. and Mrs. David B. Thornton will entertain at a breakfast Sunday morning, November 11, honoring the visitors from Nashville, and Captain and Mrs. Owen Bagley, of Fayetteville, Tenn., who will be their guests at this time.

Mrs. Beers will be hostess at a buffet supper Saturday evening, November 10, at her home in Druid Hills honoring her guests.

Mrs. G. P. Beers entertains at her home in Brookwood Hills Friday, November 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Little Entertained At A Lovely Dinner-Dance

One of the most elaborate affairs of the week was the large dinner-dance at which the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity of Emory university entertained last evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. James Browner Little, at the Atlanta Athletic club at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Little before her recent marriage was Miss Gates Eckford, daughter of Mrs. F. Burgess Eckford. An artistic arrangement, featuring dainty bridal figures, was carried out at the dinner table which was exquisitely garlanded in chrysanthemums and dahlias of the rich autumnal shades.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Little, bride and groom, Mrs. Burgess Eckford, and her sister, Miss Florence Eckford, also Misses Jacqueline Moore, Jane King, Judy King, Clara Jones, Ruth Miller, Harriett Wynne, Alice Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. King and the active members of the chapter, including Jack Stone, William Green, Lucien Bloodworth, Moston O'Neill, Eugene Michaels, Paul Lee, James Adams, Benjamin Johnson, Merritt Britt, Henry Moore, Henry Wooten, Charles Eberhart, William Brownlee and Harold Dobbins.

Business Women Meet This Evening.

Porter, Mrs. Cuyler Trussell and Mrs. McCrary.

Mrs. Harrold Barron To Give Lecture.

Cultural interest centers in the announcement of a Shakespearean lecture to be given by Mrs. Harrold E. Barron Friday evening, November 16, at 8 o'clock, at the Columbian club on Peachtree street, under the auspices of the Atlanta Catholic club of Business and Professional Women. Mrs. Barron has recently returned from a visit in the north, where she familiarized herself with the popular topics on Shakespeare. Her subject will be Shakespeare in 1923. Mrs. Barron has devoted much time to the presentation of Shakespeare. She will also discuss the attitude of the late Robert Mantell on this subject. Tickets may be bought from any member of the club.

Mrs. Lane Honored At Miscellaneous Shower.

Mrs. Lester T. Lane, a bride of October was the honor guest at a miscellaneous shower given last Saturday, by Mrs. E. Powell Ragan at her home on South Gordon street. Miss Ella Duke Brown won two bud vases for the prize. Mrs. F. C. Roan won as a consolation prize a rubber apron. The shower gifts were brought in in a pink decorated wagon by little Miss Martha Louise Bridwell dressed in pink crepe paper. Those present were Mesdames D. B. Benson, J. P. Duckett, W. H. Arnold, M. M. Bridwell, R. L. Thompson, Jr., F. C. Roan, H. C. Hamrick, L. T. Lane, Misses Ruby Ene Ragan, Ella Brown, and Martha Louise Bridwell.

Miss Legg Weds Mr. Stephens At Impressive Home Ceremony

Unusual beauty and simplicity characterized the marriage of Miss Nancy Legg and William Northcutt Stephens, of Marietta, which took place last evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Newton Heggie, in the presence of the family and a few close relatives and friends. An impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Patterson, after an altar service in the day window of the long, spacious living room and banked with palms and ferns and decorated with tall pedestals of white chrysanthemums and candelabra holding white tapers. White standards tied with tulle and clusters of white chrysanthemums, connected by tulle, formed the aisle for the wedding party.

An appropriate musical program was rendered by Miss Sarah Patton, soprano; Miss Glenn Hancock at the piano and Paul Lovejoy on the violin. The dining room was artistically arranged with a profusion of white dahlias and chrysanthemums, interspersed with greenery. The central table was covered with a lace cloth, held at its center by a three-tiered bride's cake frosted in valley blue and topped by a miniature bride. White boxes with monograms and the date in gold lettering, tied with white satin ribbon and containing wedding favors, were presented to the guests.

Bridal Attendants.
The bride's only attendant, Miss Elizabeth Stephens, sister of the groom, was gown in light green tulle and tulle modeled about her waist, close-fitting tulle waist with full pointed skirt of green tulle, piped in silver, longer than the bride's. Her bouquet consisted of pink roses and lilies of the valley, showered with pink ribbons and valley lilies. Green satin slippers completed the costume. The groom's best man was his brother, Mr. Edward Stephens, and Joseph P. Legg, Jr., brother of the bride; Robert T. Williamson, Armstrong A. Hunt and Charles C. Henderson were ushers. Robert M. Goodman, nephew of the groom, was ring-bearer, wearing a white satin suit and carrying a white satin pillow, showered with white ribbon and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Oscar Palmour Wins Honors At College Park Flower Show

Mrs. Oscar Palmour, of College Park, was awarded the sweepstakes prize at the seventeenth annual chrysanthemum show of the College Park Woman's club which was held Wednesday afternoon in the main auditorium of the club. She was also awarded the general excellence ribbon offered by the Garden club of Georgia for the best white chrysanthemum in this division.

The handsome silver vase offered by the club for the best twelve chrysanthemums, four varieties, three of a kind, was awarded to Mrs. Palmour. Other awards made in this division were, second, Mrs. Henry Godby, third, Mrs. D. R. Nesbitt, and fourth, Mrs. T. O. Plunkett.

First, second and third prizes for the best seven white chrysanthemums were awarded respectively to Mrs. Oscar Palmour, Mrs. Henry Godby, and Mrs. T. O. Plunkett.

For the best seven yellow chrysanthemums, Mrs. Oscar Palmour received the first award, Mrs. T. O. Plunkett, second, and Mrs. Henry Godby, third.

Awards for the best seven pink chrysanthemums were made to Mrs. Oscar Palmour, first; Mrs. D. R. Nesbitt, second; and Mrs. Henry Godby, third.

Prizes for the best garden collection were given Mrs. C. E. Holt, first; Mrs. Oscar Palmour, second; and Mrs. Henry Godby, third.

Awards for the best garden collection were made to Mrs. T. O. Plunkett, first; Mrs. Oscar Palmour, second; and Mrs. H. H. Northcutt, third.

The judges of the exhibit were E. O. Lee and F. Heckert, of the C. A. Dahl Floral company.

The exhibit which was held in the main auditorium of the College Park Woman's club, assembled several hundred ing a white satin suit and carrying a white satin pillow, showered with white ribbon and lilies of the valley.

Beautiful Bride.
The lovely bride entered with her father, Joseph P. Legg, Sr., who gave her in marriage. Her bride robes were of white satin modeled along princess lines with long close-fitting waist offset with yoke of rose point lace outlined in long tight lace sleeves and full skirt, shorter in front, with insert of the same lace were distinctive features of the gown.

The handsome court train was of satin with inserts of rose point lace outlined in pearls with border of tulle. The veil was of tulle carried to the head with a wreath of orange blossoms. A shower bouquet of white roses and valley lilies completed the costume.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Newton Heggie, was gown in black lace over apricot satin. Her corsage was of pink roses and lilies of the valley. She was assisted in entertaining by the groom's mother, Mrs. George P. Legg, Mrs. Lewis Turner, Mrs. Sussie Wyatt and Mrs. A. E. Davenport also assisted in receiving. Misses Sadie Silley, Sue Nichols, Lois Gardner, Charlotte and Mary Ellen Law, Emma Katherine Anderson, Julia Abbott, Estelle Atkinson and Mrs. Walter Jervey served punch. The bride's bouquet was kept by Miss Lucile Sessions.

Wedding Trip.
During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Stephens left for a wedding journey to New York and other points of interest in the east. The bride's traveling costume was a navy blue crepe ensemble with a blue felt hat, blue coat with tan felt collar and cuffs and accessories to match. Upon their return from the honeymoon Mr. Stephens and his bride will make their home in Marietta.

THE YOUNG PRETENDERS

By Alice Grant Rosman

SYNOPSIS.
While lying helpless in bed after a motor accident Hugo Donaldson broods over the fact that his father, with whom he had quarreled just before the smash, has never come into his room to visit him. He decides that he must be dead and that his mother and the servants are keeping it from him.

INSTALLMENT IV. BLACK MISERY.

At sight of his mother's bewildered face Hugo laughed and patted her hand.

"It's all right, mother, I'm only pulling your leg," he said. And Lady Donaldson exclaimed:

"O, Hugo, dearest boy, you're just like . . . You're dreadful. You are, really."

She had broken off, catching her breath and gazing at him in a frightened way, but Hugo knew.

"Who am I just like?" he demanded with a dark look.

"Exactly like Aunt Eleanor," cried his mother, clutching at the inspiration. "And that reminds me, she's in town and coming to see you today. Now what do you think of that?"

Hugo felt it would be better not to tell her what he thought of that.

"All the antiques, eh?" he said, grinning. "Uncle William yesterday and Aunt Eleanor today."

"Darling, boy, you will be nice to her, won't you? Because after all she is very important," said his mother anxiously.

"Why is she?" inquired Hugo in an obstinate tone.

"Well, she's quite the most important member of the family, Hugo. What is it, Tright? . . . The doctor? Come along, doctor, your patient is a perfect rascal this morning and I can do nothing with him."

It was a hint to his mother to go and she took it, smiling that intimate smile which had always vaguely endeared her son. It was as though, he thought suddenly, she carried all her affections in her face, and they might brim over at any moment. He felt it was somehow mean of him to notice this and mind.

"So you've had a good night?" said the doctor, "and you're full of beans this morning? Let's have a look at you."

The doctor's hands were not as clever as Tright's and the boy held hard to his endurance, a furrow of pain between his dark eyes.

Seeking frantically for some subject to steady his mind, he remembered the great secret, and as Dr. Hissop straightened himself at last, he blurted out:

"Ever attend any deaths in our family, doctor?"

"What's that?" thundered the doctor with pretended indignation. "You think I kill my patients, do you? Not a bit of it, my boy. They've got to stay alive and support me in my old age."

Hugo scowled, for it seemed to him a pretty poor evasion, and the doctor's quick look had not been lost upon him.

"Well, you ought to be jolly grateful to me," said Hugo. "I'm a stayer. I am. You won't get rid of this patient in a hurry."

"I should think not, indeed," snorted the doctor. "Why, you're a better life than half the fellows walking about London at this very moment. A nice sort of conversation for a bright spring morning, I must say. Let me see now. How old are you again?"

"Twenty," said Hugo, and then at something in the other man's face, something so near to pity that it hurt, he forced a grin and added: "I'll do you down yet, doctor. One of these fine mornings you'll come round and find me up and about."

"And I wouldn't put it past you either," said the doctor with a beam of satisfaction. "Defy your medical adviser, would you? You'll get up when I tell you and not before, my bright lad."

On this cheerful note, entirely insincere on both sides, the doctor went away and Hugo closed his eyes, black misery engulfing him.

The doctor had dogged the question.

Would they never tell him whether his father was dead?

"Of course he's dead," said Hugo to himself. "That just shows."

He could hear voices in the next room, the doctor talking and talking to Tright. He was warning him of course that Hugo was beginning to suspect about his father. No use trying to spring his question on Tright after that, for the fellow would be prepared. And it was such a jolly good question, too. "Where did they bury my father, Tright?" What an ass he had been to say anything about it to the doctor.

And his mother had said he was just like . . . and then had broken off in a horrified way. Didn't that prove it? She was always jolly cheerful and so pretty, his mother, and yet, could she be so cheerful if his father were dead? The thought pulled Hugo up short. But then perhaps it was just put on for his benefit, like all the lies they told about his leaving better and having had a splendid night. Or perhaps she hadn't really liked his father very much. Hugo had always imagined she did, but how could he know, after all?

In the busy, carefree past he had taken such things for granted and he had never thought about people very much, but now they were all that was left in the world and he was finding them new and strange . . .

"They're awful liars," said Hugo confidentially to himself. But he wasn't going to be taken in by them. He would find out about his father. If he couldn't do it any other way he'd write to one of the newspapers, asking whether Sir Richard Donaldson, K. C., were dead or alive, signing himself William Smith or something.

But then they would see the letter going out and wonder what he was writing about, and perhaps they wouldn't send it. You never knew.

"I've got it," said Hugo excitedly. "I'll look him up in 'Who's Who.' Tright . . . I say, Tright."

Tright came at once with an air of knowing all about it, but as usual he was wrong.

"I want a 'Who's Who,' Tright. Just nip downstairs and see if you can pinch it for me. There's a good chap. In the library. You needn't bother any one."

"That's right," said Tright. "He was away a long time. Perhaps the doctor hadn't left the house yet and Tright had run down to tell him Hugo wanted 'Who's Who.' He could picture them wondering why he wanted it, and calling his mother, and the three of them putting their heads together and suddenly suspecting and plotting to keep it from him."

But no. Tright had come back, the fat red book in his arms, and Hugo hid his eagerness and said:

"Thanks awfully. Just put it on the bed, will you?"

"It's heavy," said Tright. "I think we'd better have the bed rest."

"No, no," cried Hugo frantically. "He loathed the bed rest. It made him feel cramped down, imprisoned, desperate, and although he knew he couldn't move and was just as inevitably cramped down without it, his secret terror of it still persisted."

"I'll manage. Don't you worry," he said, placatingly to Tright.

He wasn't going to look at the book while Tright was hanging about, and he watched him out of a corner of his eye as he pulled the curtains a little so that the light should be better, and pushed the round table close enough for the fat red book to rest against it.

"That's a clever dodge. Thanks," said Hugo, and at last Tright was gone.

But Hugo's trembling fingers, turning the pages of his treasure, had not found the place when there was a sound at the door and he knew it was his mother coming. He hid the red book under the eiderdown just as he heard the inevitable introduction.

"Everbody seems to know about Lora's being an adopted child except Lora. I was a chump to breathe it to anybody. It traveled like wildfire."

"Phyllis, do you think anybody would ever be so thoughtless as to tell Lora?"

"There is no reason anybody should—and I can't believe anybody would."

"It would be terrible to have her find out from an outsider. The fact that Uncle Jerry and Aunt El hadn't told her sooner would be a shock to her."

"I'd like to explain it to her myself, but it wouldn't be fair to Uncle and Aunt. They should tell her if anyone does."

"Cousin Walt, can you prove the eleventh theorem in my geometry book? I can."

"Lora, you can't prove it by me what a theorem is."

"Twenty," said Hugo, and then at something in the other man's face, something so near to pity that it hurt, he forced a grin and added: "I'll do you down yet, doctor. One of these fine mornings you'll come round and find me up and about."
